NEAR-NEWS AND CHATTER FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

To the lady first correctly guessing the identity of the person of whom the following is a character sketch, and bringing a copy of this paper to the Tribune office, a cash prize of $1.00 will be given. The subject of the sketch is a prominent citizen of La Crosse. After winning one prize, a contestant will not be eligible to again compete for a period of three months.

A. W. Higgins of the Gas and Electric company was the subject of last week's contest, the winner being Mrs. H. Trepte, 813 South Eighth street.

He's as big as C. L. Hood. His voice shakes the rafters. In fact, his voice is always shaking the rafters, when enclosed, and in the open one may well believe it shakes the dome of heaven. With invective he shakes the rafters, with laughter and with song. His business is to preach greater liberty through more government. He castigates the plutocrats, but he "ain't mad at nobody." He used to believe in signs, but when the trust made him stop selling his "handwriting on the wall," and when he couldn't scrape up money fast enough to patent his inventions an' pay lawyers for prosecuting infringements, he swore off on all the sordid things and took to preaching the gospel of equality. East and west, north and south, he has stood in the market place and exhorted the populace until the police reserves were called out. An ordinary police force attempting the arrest of this herculean orator looks like a hazardous undertaking, but this colossus who bestrides the old political parties waving his panaceas at the people always puts his arm around the sergeant and marches, laughing, to the bastile, exhorting the motley mob of the inquisitive by the way. A huge, raw-boned disciple of the universal fellowship, he damns us and loves us, and turns the other cheek.

A new school of Italian writers has arisen, which, under the guise of "poetry," aims to set down in cold type impressions received by the brain direct, without the circumlocutions of connected verse. —News Item.

A meeting of the La Crosse common council lends itself admirably to reproduction in the new "Futurist" poetry—thus:

Dear White Way Editor,—

It has been tipped off to me that me good frind, Phil Peterson, is after l'arning th' tango. I'm deeply shocked to think that after a loife of total abstenance Petey should fall fr this Graeco-Roman specimen av social eccentricity. 'Tis a cross between a compromisin' situation and a scandal. At his time of loife a man never develops th' disase without bein' innoculated, an' it's me private opinion that Petey was exposed at th' Rubber Mills ball.

I wonder phwat th' Misses thinks about it? Most wives think it ought to be a family matter. Whin the husband is infected with the disase, the wife ought to call th' health officer an' insist on th' quar-rantine. A woman niver can tell but phwat her bist frind will catch it if she lets her hubby run around loose whin th' fever is on him.

If Petey r'aly has his hear'rt set on learning th' tango, he ought to begin by takin' wrastlin' lessons from Harry Taggart. A wor-rkin' knowledge av th' strangle holt an' th' scissors would be an illigant foundation to build on. An' he's foolish to be wastin' av his money on hirin' lessons. There's dozens av pretty gir-ruls in La Crosse who'd be glad to tach 'im f'r th' experience. Some min prefer th' professional instructor, but others say th' amateur makes up in enthusiasm phwat she lacks in technique.

War-rn Petey f'r me that if he persists in his mad career he'll fall a victim av indigestion. As a dietary institution th' tango is over-seasoned. A couple dancin' it are like a chicken sandwich with Too Much Mustard.

Respectfully,

DOOLEY.

Announcement extraordinary—

Like a chinook wind from the Oregon coast, there will breeze into town about Wednesday an old habitue of The White Way. He is one "than whom" "none other" (language by courtesy of Otto Bosshard, copyrighted for the Athletic Bowling club)—than whom none other has been more welcome within the sacred precincts of gaiety. No other knew better how to transform a full hand into a handful. No other could tell a story better or listen with greater interest. No other could be so stern a judge or so lenient a friend. Oh! there'll be some commotion on The Great White Way when JUDGE CLINTON W. HUNT BLOWS IN.

(From Die Germania Rundschau.)

You never would have guessed that Nic Haerter, in his day (and his day's sun has not set), was a noble practitioner of the manly art whose prowess was not unknown in the troublous pioneer days. Nic is so peaceful nowadays, so urbanely and smilingly friendly, that one with difficulty imagines him handing out uppercuts and swings, but even now there is a gleam in his spirited eye which suggests the wisdom of keeping off his coattails.

Billy Fox is of the opinion that Nic's victories were partly due to his long "reach," the extent of which he illustrates by the following story:

A party of gentlemen had spent the day at Pammel's Grove, and were returning in the cool of the evening, when the noise of their travel and fun caused a cow which a farmer was milking by the wayside to hand the milkpail a wallop which gave the rural a drenching milk bath.

The irate farmer made after the team, intent upon thrashing the whole outfit. Mr. Fox sprang from the rig to meet him, and while standing ready to "hand him one," if need be, was attempting to save the fellow's skin by talking him out of his rash undertaking. In the course of the conversation the farmer delivered himself of some scurrilous insult to the party, which was too much for the militant spirit of Mr. Haerter.

"A long arm shot over my shoulder from behind," says Mr. Fox, "and caught that blasphemous sodbuster square in the mouth. He went over like a rocket, and when he scrambled to his feet with his mouth full of sand, it was all the sand he had left. He beat it for the hay, leaving Nic monarch of the situation. But Nic really wasn't mad at anybody, I know, for I plainly saw him grin as he climbed back to his seat."

About six months ago arrangements were made to connect the club rooms at Germania Hall with the bar in the basement by means of an electric bell. Shortly thereafter Judge Herman Langstadt, spending an evening with three friends at the hall, spied the push button.

"By gollie, vot iss it?" he asked.

William Luening, one of the party, solemnly winked at the others.

"You push the bell," he said. "That gets Tanke's attention. Then you shout your order close up to the button, and up comes Tanke with the stuff."

Judge Langstadt pushed the button, and then lustily called for four tall ones. Presently up came Mr. Tanke, empty handed, and inquired for the gentlemen's order. Nobody cracked a smile, and after sifting the matter in his mind for a time, the judge delivered himself of the following conclusion:

"Out of order, already!"

CHILD DROPS DEAD AT HIGH SCHOOL

Eight Year Old Georgie Michels Runs About Running Track Once and His Heart Fails

GYMNASIUM FILLED WITH BOYS

Grade School Lads Were Enjoying Privileges of the New Hixon Gymnasium Today

With the Hixon gymnasium at the high school filled with three hundred shrieking, laughing grade school boys let loose for their weekly holiday among the apparatus this morning, George Michels, 8, leader of the third grade at the Webster school, ran around the running track once and fell dead.

How long he lay upon the track before one of his comrades noticed the body is not known. The noisy play went on, until some one climbed to the balcony and started around the running track. Suddenly he stopped, and an instant later the clatter of the boys in the gym hushed to a whisper beneath the shriek:

"Georgie's dead!"

Older Brother There

Georgie's older brother, Fred, was in the crowd on the main floor of the gymnasium. He was one of the first to reach the side of his brother, and had to be dragged from the body by main force when Athletic Coach Horn and his assistant, Harry Marshll, began atempts to resuscitate the boy.

Their efforts proved useless, and the body was removed to the office of Superintendent L. P. Benezet. Dr. W. E. Bannen was summoned. One glance told the doctor that attempts to revive the child were useless.

"Heart failure," he said. "The child must have had an extraordinarily weak heart."

Georgie was the son of Mrs. Katherine Michels, 1614 Adam street. It has been the custom of the high school to throw open the new Hixon gymnasium and pool for the use of grade boys every Saturday, and today Georgie and his older brother took advantage of the privilege.

Not Even Perspiring

The body was discovered about 10:30, and life was completely extinct then. Dr. Bannen, who examined the body, said that he could not have run around the track more than once, as he had not even begun to perspire when he dropped. No one saw him fall.

His mother was notified as soon as the impossibility of reviving the boy was definite, and she came to the high school at once.

DIGGS DENIES GUILT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 14—Maury I. Diggs, convicted with F. Drew Caminetti last summer of violating the Mann white slave law today pleaded not guilty to a charge of attacking Miss Ida Pearring, 17, at a local hotel on New Year's eve. Walter Gilligan, jointly accused, entered a similar plea. The trials will start April 20, Diggs appearing first.

$3,000 FOR BIG TRIPLE FESTIVAL

John C. Burns Estimates That Amount Needed for Fourth-La Crosse-Week Homecoming

Three thousand dollars is the amount needed to make the triple Homecoming, Made-in-La Crosse-Week, Fourth of July celebration planned here a success, according to an estimate made by John C. Burns, chairman of the committee appointed to raise funds for the affair by President E. S. Hebberd of the board of trade. The estimate was contained in a letter sent by Mr. Burns to the members of the committee.

Mr. Burns says that the $3,000 needed should be divided in the following way: Fireworks, $1,000; decorations, $500; music, $500; Made-in-La Crosse celebration, $500; advertising, $200; homecoming, $200; speakers, $100.

In the letter Mr. Burns suggested that the committee meet at any date convenient for the other members in the near future, and it is probable that the meeting will be held early next week.

WRECK KILLS FIREMAN

OELWEIN, Iowa, March 14.—Erbin Nodrean, a fireman, was killed and C. B. Smith, engineer, was perhaps fatally burned in the wreck of an eastbound freight train on the Great Western railroad near Stanley, seven miles east of here, last night.

OLD COMRADES TO ATTEND BODY TO LAST REPOSE

G. A. R. Veterans Will Officiate at Funeral of Colonel G. M. Woodward

SERVICES ON MONDAY AFTERNOON

La Crosse County Bar Association Names Pallbearers for Honorary Members

JUDGE HIGBEE ADJOURNS COURT

Postpones Sitting at Whitehall Monday to Allow Him to Attend Funeral

The funeral of Col. Gilbert M. Woodward, who died Friday morning, will be held at 2:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon from the residence of Mrs. D. A. McDonald, 226 West Avenue North.

The services will be simple and without ostentation.

The Rev. William Everett Johnson of Christ Episcopal church will preside at the services at the house.

G. A. R. Escort

The body will be escorted to the grave by members of the G. A. R. and a cordon of La Crosse police. The G. A. R. will officiate at the cemetery.

At a meeting of the La Crosse County Bar association yesterday afternoon a committee, consisting of Andrew Lees, George H. Gordon and C. H. Schweizer was appointed to make the arrangements for the funeral.

The committee met at the office of Mr. Lees this morning and conferred with O. J. Stevens, commander of the local post of the G. A. R.

The active pall bearers, selected by the bar association committee this morning, consist of George H. Gordon, George W. Bunge, W. F. Wolfe, Frank Winter, P. W. Mahoney and C. H. Schweizer.

The honorary pallbearers are old time friends of the deceased and men who were associated with him in the early days of La Crosse. They are: A. Hirshheimer, I. H. Moulton, L. C. Colman, J. S. Medary, Michael Funke and Dr. W. A. Anderson.

At the meeting of the bar association yesterday it was decided to appoint committees to draft the resolutions and make the arrangements for memorials to the circuit and supreme courts of Wisconsin.

Adjourns Court

Judge Higbee this morning adjourned the regular term of court at Whitehall, due to convene Monday, until Tuesday. This will permit him to attend the funeral of Col. Woodward and is in accord with the wishes of the La Crosse County Bar association.

At the meeting of the common council last night Alderman Mahoney introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to draft resolutions to be presented to the council in honor of Mr. Woodward, who was at one time mayor of the city and for many years member of the police and fire commission.

This morning Acting Mayor William Torrance appointed a committee consisting of Alderman Mahoney, Joseph Houska and Burt Smith to draft the necessary resolutions, which will be presented to the council at its next meeting.

Commander Stevens of the G. A. R., this morning issued the following notice to members of the local posts:

"All members of Wilson Colwell Post No. 38, G. A. R. are requested to meet at Post hall, court house, Monday afternoon, March 16th at 2 o'clock sharp, to attend the funeral of our late comrade, Gilbert M. Woodward.

"O. C. Stevens, Commander.
"W. J. Davidson, Adjutant."

"TAX PROTEST" MEETING

MADISON, Wis., March 14. — A Dane county tax protest meeting opened at two o'clock this afternoon. William F. Pierstorff, Middleton, was named chairman. C. E. Pierce, Jamesville; T. C. Richmond, Madison and J. M. Clancy, Stoughton, spoke.

RIVER IS OPEN EARLY THIS YEAR

Fully two weeks before its normal time, the ice closing the Mississippi river here went out yesterday afternoon. Today there is a channel three hundred feet wide above and below the bridge, and large cakes are splitting from the shore floes and going down stream constantly. Last year the ice went out March 20. For the last thirty or forty years the river has opened about the last of the month, as an average.

ADMITS TOLLS ARE DISCRIMINATORY

General Passenger Agent of the Milwaukee Justifies Statement Saying They Are Being Extended

WILL APPLY TO ALL THE STATIONS

Chairman Higbee Regards Letter as Valuable Because of Information It Contains

In a letter directed to J. E. Higbee, chairman of the traffic committee of the board of trade, F. E. Miller, general passenger traffic manager of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, admits that as now applied the tolls charged for crossing the company's Mississippi bridge appear to amount to discrimination, but justifies the present condition by explaining that the tolls are merely in process of adoption, and as new tariffs are printed will be extended to all passengers at all stations on the system.

Mr. Higbee regards the letter as of value chiefly because it contains what purports to be a complete list of railway bridges where tolls are being charged under the ruling of the interstate commerce commission. This information is wanted by the board of trade in pursuit of a plan to enlist all boards of trade in cities where tolls are so charged, through their memberships in the national chamber of commerce, in an effort to have the ruling reversed.

Traffic Manager Miller's letter follows:

"Chicago, March 12, 1914.

"Mr. Jesse E. Higbee, Chairman Committee on Traffic, La Crosse Board of Trade. La Crosse, Wis.

"Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of March 11th, the fare between La Crosse and North La Crosse, Wis., and Bridge Switch, Minn., is twenty-five cents. This includes a charge for the bridge across the Mississippi river. For the time being, the bridge charge is included in fares from only a few stations on either side of the Mississippi river, but with the readjustment of fares, now under way, it will be included in interstate fares which naturally make on La Crosse.

"It is customary to make an arbitrary charge for transportation on costly bridges over streams like the Mississippi river and the Missouri river. An arbitrary charge of this nature is made over the Mississippi river at Prairie du Chien and at Savanna; it is made by the C. & N. W. Ry., Burlington Route and Green Bay & Western Ry. at Winona; it is made by the Illinois Central Ry., C. G. W. Ry. and C. B. & Q. Ry. at Dubuque; it is made by the C. & N. W. Ry. at Fulton; it is made by the M. & St. L. Ry. at Keithsburg; it is made by the A. T. & S. F. Ry. at Ft. Madison; it is made by the C. B. & Q. Ry. at Quincy.

"The question as to the reasonableness of bridge charges was passed upon by the interstate commerce commission several years ago in connection with the Illinois Central Ry. bridge between East Dubuque and Dubuque, over which the arbitrary charge for transportation is thirty cents. After thorough investigation the commission decided that the charge was reasonable.

"Yours truly,
"F. W. MILLER,
"Passenger Traffic Manager."

INCINERATOR MAN WOULD SHOW GOODS

C. E. Hunter Invites Health Committee of Council to Visit Chicago and See Plant There

C. E. Hunter, representing an incinerator manufacturing plant, last night explained his product to members of the common council and invited the council to send its committee to Chicago to view a plant—the incinerator company paying all expenses.

Mr. Hunter in his address to the council explained that his company built plants which could be erected in units and increased as the garbage collections in La Crosse increased.

Alderman Mahoney's resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to draft resolutions in honor of the late Colonel Gilbert M. Woodward was unanimously passed.

DISSOLVE COAL TRUST

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 14.—The dissolution of the "soft coal trust" was ordered in a decree rendered here today by a specially constituted United States district court, composed of Judges Dennison of Indiana, Warrington of Cincinnati and Knappen of Michigan. The Lake Shore, Hocking Valley and Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad companies were ordered to dispose of their holdings in the Sunday Creek Coal company within sixty days.

JUDGE SMOTHERS IN HIS GARAGE

Former County Judge and Attorney for Forty Years at Sparta Found Dead by His Son

BIG FIRE EXHAUSTED THE OXYGEN

Engine Was Turning and Fumes of Exhaust Hastened Collapse; Once Lived in La Crosse

SPARTA, Wis., March 14.—(Special.)—Judge Charles M. Masters, aged 72, for forty years a practicing attorney in Sparta, formerly county judge, and a pioneer settler of the western part of Wisconsin, was found smothered on the floor of his garage yesterday afternoon by his son, Harry J. Masters.

The garage was tightly closed and a big fire which was burning to warm the place had exhausted all the oxygen. The engine of the car was running, and the fumes of the exhaust hastened the collapse of the judge, it is thought.

Repairing Tire Trouble

Judge Masters had gone to the garage to start the car to meet his son's wife at the train. When found his body was lying upon its back at right angles to the running board, and the hose of the tire pump was attached to one of the front tires, indicating that he had been repairing tire trouble when overcome.

Harry Masters, the son, found the body shortly before six o'clock, when he came home after being out of town for the day. After calling his father in the house he saw a light in the garage, and went there. Immediately upon discovering the body he called Dr. W. G. Sarles, who declared that Judge Masters had been dead for two or three hours.

Attempts were made today to notify his widow, who is visiting in the west, but telegrams failed to reach her this morning. Funeral arrangements will not be made until she has been informed of the death. It is probable, however, that the funeral will be held next Wednesday.

Born in Massachusetts

Judge Charles M. Masters was born in Springfield, Mass., October 3, 1841. He received his education at the grammar and high schools of his native city, and spent two years at the Wilbraham Academy in Connecticut. Upon leaving school he came west and settled in La Crosse where he conducted an insurance business.

In 1865 he moved to Sparta, opening a book and stationery store. He read law in spare times with L. W. Gray, and was admitted to the bar in 1871. In 1872 he formed a partnership with the noted Judge Joseph M. Morrow, and in 1878 and again in 1882 he was chosen county judge.

Upon the death of Judge Morrow, Judge Masters formed a partnership with R. J. Gray, and later his son, Harry J. Masters, the only surviving child of the judge, was taken in as junior member of the firm.

Married in 1865

Judge Masters married Miss Ella Seeley, Bangor, December 7, 1865. Mrs. Masters died in 1882. Two children were born, but only one, Harry J. Masters, survives.

In January, 1911, Judge Masters again married, taking Mrs. Alice Pharis, Syracuse, N. Y., as his wife.

NO MORE CONCESSIONS

BRADFORD, Eng., March 14.—Flat notice to the anti-home rulers of Ulster that he Asquith government will make no further concessions was served on the "Ulster-willfight" men here tonight by Secretary Churchill. "The concession that Irish counties may vote as to whether they will accept the home rule government for a period of six years is as far as the government can go," said Churchill. "There will be no further yielding."

OUT FOR BOARD

Another candidate has come forward for a position on the county board of education, N. C. Berg of Rockland is the latest man to announce his candidacy as a member of the new board. Four candidates are now in the field and five members are required to complete the board.

DELEGATES TO SPEAK

Arthur Mills, H. R. Lee and A. C. Gran, who attended the state convention of the Young Men's Christian association held recently in Milwaukee, will address the meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at the Y. M. C. A. The delegates returned with a wealth of new material for association work.

SUES ON NOTES

An action on two promissory notes for a total of $778 was filed with the clerk of court this morning by Oscar Torkelson who is suing Albert Torkelson to recover on the notes. The case will come before Judge E. C. Higbee March 8.

HULL COMES OUT FOR GOVERNOR ON ECONOMY STAND

Says Appropriations Should Be Cut but Without Hurting State Departments

HE WOULD CONSOLIDATE SOME

Thinks Amalgamation of Minor Departments Will Not Effect Efficiency of Work

WANTS TAXES USED CAREFULLY

Insists that Appropriations Should Be Made on Basis of Normal Amount of Revenue

MADISON, Wis., March 14.—(Special.)—Speaker Merlin Hull of Black River Falls, who was here today, stated that he would be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor at the September primaries. Mr. Hill said he will issue statements embracing his views on appropriations, taxes, schools and other public questions. Not a topic of interest to the people of the state will be omitted from his curriculum of discussion, he declared. Speaker Hull has been a member of the legislature for three terms, and at the last session was chosen its presiding officer. He has always been allied with the progressive element, but as an independent factor with views of his own on public question which he has not hesitated to discuss.

Speaker Hull answered inquiries today on his views respecting taxation, a subject now engrossing public interest.

Would Cut Appropriations

"The only way to reduce state taxation is to reduce the appropriations," he said. "I have had definite ideas as to how state appropriations could have been made much lower without damage or injury to any state institution or department. In three sessions of the legislature of which I have been a member, I have voiced my protest against certain appropriation bills and also the general system under which appropriations are made. Appropriations too frequently have been increased without taking into consideration the ordinary revenues of the state. I am positive that reductions can be made in many ways, and I shall at an early date outline my views very fully so that the people can understand my position. Among other things, I have urged and voted for consolidation of some of the minor state departments. I believe it is possible thus to promote economy without loss of efficiency.

Need Better Accounting

"The need of better systems of accounting has also been recognized, and should be adopted, but no great relief from taxation can come from a mere change in methods of bookkeeping. Reduce the appropriations to the proper level and the question of state taxation will be taken care of. Instead of appropriating lavishly and then taxing with equal liberality, the appropriations should be made according to the normal amount of revenue, and every department and institution should have a just proportion in the general scheme of economy."

Hull's Biography

Speaker Hull is about 43 years old, is married and has three children. He was educated in the common schools of Jackson county, and later attending Gale college, Galesville, Wis.,

SPOTLIGHTS

MARY PICKFORD AT BIJOU

Little Mary Pickford, the charming little actress, who has been playing "The Good Little Devil," one of Belasco's present successes on the speaking stage, will be seen again in motion pictures at the Bijou next week.

This Famous Players feature is the first one produced in the Los Angeles studios and Producer Porter is to be congratulated upon this wonderful drama of tangled lives entitled "Hearts Adrift."

It is doubtful whether a picture has been produced to date that has caused such general comment with the picture public.

Mary Pickford's work as the little French waif, stranded on a desert isle, is so far ahead of any of her former work, that it is hard to believe it is "Little Mary" who we all thought we knew so well. Wonderful scenes of a beautiful yacht afire at sea, a terrible storm on a rocky coast, an erupting volcano in action with red hot lava pouring down the sides of the crater, are a few of the very different scenes, from the every day motion picture. The many thousand admirers of little Mary Pickford will see her in the best work of her long career before the camera. The four part picture will be shown Monday and Tuesday, March 16 and 17 at the Bijou, with a special musical program by Walter Goetzinger.

HER BEAUTY PARLOR

"Work" was the abrupt answer of May Irwin, the "Widow by Proxy" of Catherine Chisholm Cushing's farce, which comes to the La Crosse theater on Monday night, March 16, to an interviewer's query as to what she considered the greatest aid to beauty. "Just work—any kind that will keep one occupied."

"When I wish to feel particularly well," she continued, "I indulge in my favorite recreation. With me, it is cooking. Nothing will bring a deeper glow to one's complexion or infuse so much joy into living as to indulge in a favorite occupation. Not one of rest or idleness, but just one of work.

"I look upon work as the greatest boon to mankind. It is the surest way to health; and health means beauty. Not drudgery of course, but work, if conditions are right, is not drudgery."

"THE TRAFFIC"

"The Traffic," which comes to the La Crosse theater on Tuesday, March 17, matinee and night, is said to be the most audacious play of serious purpose ever presented to an American public. It deals with the unvarnished truth about the white slave trade. The author of this defiant adventure into dramatic realism is Rachael Marshall, whose great-grandfather was the famous Chief Justice Marshall. Miss Marshall is a pupil and colleague of Jane Addams, herself a convent bred student of sociology, a linguist and painter. The young playwright's mother was a granddaughter of Governor Vallerie of Louisiana, an aristocratic house of French grandees.

Convincing fidelity to facts is the startling feature of "The Traffic." It is to be lavishly staged, costumed and equipped for the local public, and will be presented by a company of competent players. Startling as the effect of "The Traffic" upon the audience, yet it is a play of essential cleanliness—the wholesome cleanliness of truth. The "old timer"—the man or woman who knows—will be amazed at the audacious truth of its scenes and dialogue, and yet there is not a prurient moment in the progress of the four acts. In a large and daring way "The Traffic" propounds the momentous question, "Will the American theater goers approve the truth—the absolute verities on the stage?"

YELLOWSTONE GEYSERS

The fiery geysers of Yellowstone park which act as a "safety valve" for mother earth also constitute a big feature of Lyman H. Howe's new program to be seen at the La Crosse theater on Wednesday. At every turn water is seen boiling furiously either in vats carved by nature or is being ejected to great heights by fierce explosions underneath. Masses of steam rush from openings in the ground. Terrible convulsions of nature ensue and monstrous cauldrons become more and more active until the whole ensemble becomes a veritable inferno. The historic ruins of Pompeii in the colors of nature, a visit to Naples and to the Paris zoo where acquaintance is made with numerous strange animals at close range, the wood turning industry at St. Claude, salmon fishing in British Columbia, tunny fishing near Palermo, Sicily, new "symphonies of the sea" and a ride on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company's train de luxe "The Olympian," through the Montana Canyon and over the Cascade mountains in Oregon are a few of the many other features included in the program.

Speaking about some professions, what is ethical is not necessarily right.

OPENS UP NOSTRILS, CLEARS HEAD, ENDS COLDS OR CATARRH AT ONCE

Instantly Relieves Swollen, Inflamed Nose, Head, Throat—You Breathe Freely—Dull Headache Goes—Nasty Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

POTATO BUGS

By LOUISE OLIVER.

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Victoria had abandoned the little car in disgust when the gasoline gave out. She was only half way home from the postoffice and had the prospect of walking two miles to the Emerson's where she was staying.

She tucked the letters into her blouse and trudged along, the hot sun beating down on her bare head. Collar turned in and sleeves rolled up, Sol was having a pretty good chance to spoil the milky whiteness of her skin.

All at once she saw some cows! And no fence to restrain them, for they were out in the road and coming toward her. Three of them! One red, one black and white, and a Jersey.

If there was a thing in the world that Victoria was afraid of, it was a cow. She stopped suddenly in dismay. What in the world should she do? On one side of her was a high bank—she could never climb that! On the other side were some grass, a few bushes and a fence. She could not hide under a bush. She would be sure to be trampled on. Where could she go? The fence was high. She had never climbed a fence.

But the cows were coming! Any one can climb a tree if a bear is after him. So Victoria got over the fence. That is, she climbed to the top and fell the rest of the way. And she knocked a pan out of a man's hand on her way down.

Before she could scramble to her feet, she caught sight of the contents of the pan, now scattered in all directions, and she started to scream and shiver, and cover her eyes with her hands. About a hundred or two squirming, crawling potato bugs was the sight she was trying to shut out. And then the man took her firmly by the shoulders. "Shut up," he snapped. "For the love of Mike, don't have hysterics here. What's the matter with you?"

The words were pretty bad and the manner none too gracious, but his voice was very musical, and Victoria, deciding she would like to see the owner of it, stopped shivering and removed her hands from her eyes.

He was a very good looking young farmer. But he must be taught better manners than to be rude to a young lady in distress. She knew ver, well that he would never dare to address her that way could he ever have a chance to see her in her city environments. For it was true that Victoria's parents were very rich and that she had been educater and finished and polished and buffed, until she was sufficiently brilliant to attract a very eligible husband. And her present romp in the country was the order of the family physician who was trying to harden her constitution for a wearying social season.

"How dare you touch me?" she demanded haughtily. "You are very rude and impertinent. It was bad enough to fall off the fence without landing in the middle of your disgusting bugs. Ugh!"

The young man discovering that the intruder in his potato field was a very beautiful stranger, instead of Jim Mason's girl, as he at first supposed, looked rather nonplussed.

"Really, I beg your pardon. I'm awfully sorry I said anything. But the Mason girl is so silly and I thought you were she. I—I mean," hastily, "not that you look alike, but I—guess I just took it for granted. I was so surprised—and you upset my morning's work," looking ruefully at the ground. "They're awfully thick this year."

Victoria was impulsive and generous by nature. She held out her hand. "I am very sorry. But I was scared to death at the cows. If you have another stick maybe I could help get them back in again. I mean the bugs."

He laughed. "No, thank you. It will only take a few minutes, Miss—Miss—"

"Harmon. I am Victoria Harmon, and am staying over at the Emerson farm. My car broke down and I'm walking."

"But it's two miles."

"I know."

"And it's a beastly hot day.'

"Yes, it is!"

"Well, won't you let me hitch up and drive you home?"

Victoria, accustomed to offers of homage and also accustomed to accepting them, said simply, "Yes, thank you, I believe I will."

So she waited in the shade of a chestnut tree while the man went to the barn and got the runabout ready. She was thinking that, dressed up, he would be very fine looking, and he certainly had a commanding manner. He was so different from the men whom she knew at home. He was big and brown and hearty and she was sure he had never an unwholesome thought in his life.

So he drove her to the house. Then he towed her home a little later. And Victoria kindly consented to drive over to Hanging Rocks with him on Sunday to see the falls. It was as she had thought. He did look well dressed up, and he seemed to know how to dress. His clothes were well made and made for him! She began to be puzzled. Once he spoke of Naples as though he had been there.

The Emersons knew nothing of him except that he had recently bought the Brown farm.

There were several rides and many walks, before the time came for Victoria to go home.

She both hoped and feared something, but when the day came her young farmer friend said only a polite "good-bye" at the station. Victoria went home to the city with a vague longing in her heart.

Even in the exciting, bewildering social whirl that followed. Victoria felt uncanny and unhappy. It was hard for her to be nice to the young men her mother invited to the house. They were so different from—some one whom she knew.

One day her mother said to her, "Victoria, I wish you would be nice to Mr. Thurston whom your father is bringing home to dinner tonight. He is very desirable, good family and all that—and very rich. He has been away and has just come to town. He has the reputation of being eccentric and people scay he is crazy about farming. I don't know much about that part of it, but I know he is very, very well off."

"Yes, and I suppose he is as ugly at Satan and as rich as Croesus and he's looking for a young wife and I'm it." Victoria stormed and ran out of the room.

She was getting very irritable. The whole scheme of society nauseated her.

Dinner was at 8. She was dressed by 7, for she wanted an hour in the cool darkness of the little garden back of the house.

She walked restlessly up and down beside the hedge of altbea and finally dropped dispiritedly onto a bench. "Donald,' she almost sobbed aloud. "Donald, Donald, Donald! It is so lonely without you," she moaned into the darkness.

And out of the night, yet close to her, he answered: "Victoria, dear; surely you can't mean me. If you do I am the luckiest dog in the world."

Then it all flashed across her brain. Her young farmer of the potato bugs was Donald Thurston. No wonder people thought him eccentric.

If you dislike your neighbor, you will also find a lot of fault with his dog.

FACE DISFIGURED WITH ERUPTION

Spread Over Entire Face. Itched and Burned Terribly. Heavy White Crust. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Made Complete Cure.

810 East Elm St., Streator, Ill.—"A running sore broke out above my right eye, which spread over my entire face. It started as a small pimple. I scratched it open and the contents of this small pimple ran down my face. Wherever this ran a new sore appeared. They itched and burned terribly; I couldn't touch my face it burned so. It disfigured my face terribly and I couldn't be seen for everyone was afraid of it. It looked like a disease of some kind; it was all red and a heavy white crust on it. Everybody kept out of my way, afraid it would spread. I lost rest at night and I couldn't bear to have anything touch my face, not even the pillow. I had to lie on the back of the head. I was always glad when morning came so I could get up. It was extremely painful.

"I used ——— salve with small results. At last I thought of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I commenced using them. I used the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, one twenty-five-cent cake of Cuticura Soap and a half box of the fifty-cent size of Cuticura Ointment. It took three weeks to complete the cure." (Signed) Miss Caroline Miller, Apr. 30, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

A Human Churn

"WHEN the food reaches the stomach it is subjected to a peculiar churning movement by the muscular walls of the stomach"—(See Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, page 45). In the liver, kidneys and skin, the blood is purified of its waste materials—these organs act as human filters, leaving the blood pure and clear—unless liver, digestive tract and kidneys are clogged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a stomach, liver and kidney tonic—by assisting the stomach to assimilate, the liver to filter, the kidneys to act—the poisons are removed, the red blood corpuscles are increased and one feels light, fresh and active instead of logy, dull and heavy. The "Discovery" stimulates the stomach, increases action of heart and arteries and is a most satisfactory alterative in blood-taint of any character. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over forty years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form; or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and a trial box will be mailed you.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Devoted Bunnie Bonnie Rabbit.

He Bounded on the Bed.

"BUNNY RABBIT was very young. He'd only just left home. His mother had been caught in a horrid, cruel trap and had been killed. So Bunny was left all alone. His daddy didn't care for such a little, ugly black and white rabbit, and his brothers and sisters considered themselves too grown up for him," daddy began.

"Poor Bunny was heartbroken at the death of his mother rabbit, and the tears fell fast from his little pink eyes.

"A little girl named Marjery happened to be taking a walk by herself. She was enjoying the wind and the cool air and thought walking was a splendid amusement. Suddenly she spied the lonely Bunny. 'Oh, you darling little Bunny!' she called. 'You look so lonely. Come with me. I've always longed for a pet Bunny rabbit. I shall call you Bunny Bonnie, and you'll come home and be my pet Bunny, won't you?' Bunny Bonnie couldn't answer, of course, but he nestled close in her arms as she picked him up. It felt so soothing to have some one comfort him and pet him again. And Bunny Bonnie lived in a home Marjery had made for him in her own little garden.

"Marjery still took many walks, but always brought back to Bunny Bonnie a present. It was something to eat, as they were the presents Bunny Bonnie loved best.

"But on one of these walks Marjery wandered into the woods where the snow was melting and got her feet very wet. When she came home she was sneezing frantically, and by evening she had developed a high fever and was aching all over. The next day she was so ill that the doctor had to be sent for.

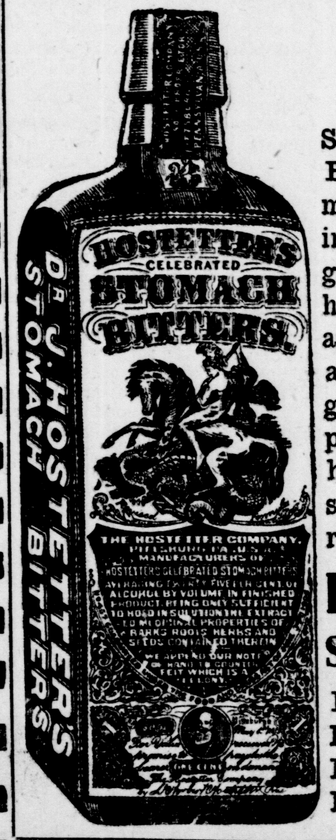

"Marjery's mother promised her that she would feed Bunny Bonnie just the same as usual. But somehow Bunny didn't feel hungry. He couldn't understand why Marjery didn't come to him, and all day long he had no heart for playing.

"Marjery's mother had tried to tempt Bunny Bonnie with goodies to eat. But, no; Bunny Bonnie was a changed rabbit! He would not play nor would he eat, and finally Marjery's mother decided she'd take him to Marjery's bedroom.

"So she took Bunny Bonnie up in her arms and carried him into the house and up into Marjery's room. Never did you see such a changed rabbit! He bounded on the bed and frisked and jumped about with joy.

"He plainly showed his joy. He was more than happy, for in his little rabbit way he had worried frightfully over the absence of Marjery. He just got up by her on the pillow and nestled down by her shoulder. Then he ate the clover Marjery gave him."

SHOULD LA FOLLETTE "COME BACK"?

The probably foundationless story to the effect that Senator La Follette is considering resignation from the senate in order to return to Wisconsin and run for governor, that he may save the state organization, is creating some talk throughout the state. The Evening Wisconsin recently discussed it in an editorial in which it questioned the ability of the senator to win out in that sort of fight, although it admits that there are precedents where favorable results were obtained. The Racine Call, Mayor Goodland's progressive newspaper, takes kindly to the idea. In a recent editorial The Call said:

"That the senate will never prove a stepping stone to the presidency for La Follette has been apparent for some time even to his best friends, a fact which he doubtless appreciates as well as anyone. In view of this, would it not be good politics as well as good statesmanship to make the sacrifice which his resignation from the senate would constitute, come back to Wisconsin and straighten things out and take his chances for the presidency on the record he would make as governor? Such a course would arouse unprecedented interest and would practically eliminate Toryism in the state. Just for the sake of one good old-fashioned scrap with victory perching conspicuously on the goal post, it's almost worth wishing for."

Should La Follette elect to return to Wisconsin and enter the state fight, we would have no misgivings about the outcome. Indeed, it cannot be doubted that his presence would strengthen the progressive party. However, the sacrifice seems unnecessary. La Follette is doing a great work in Washington. It is current gossip there that in considering new measures the Wilson administration has him in mind, always asking whether there is in it a flaw which La Follette will find. That the salutary effect of his watchfulness tends to improve the character of national legislation, cannot be doubted. No party will do its best excepting under the watchful eye of a keen and patriotic opponent. All in all, we believe that La Follette's greater duty is at the national capital.

HIS LIFE, NOT HIS DEATH THE GREAT "NEWS"

The death of Col. G. M. Woodward brings a feeling of loss and a sense of waste—loss of a genial, manly personality; waste of the rich storehouse of knowledge which his powerful and retentive intellect had seized and systemized. His quality of mind suggests a well ordered library whose volumes are selected with rare taste and arranged in logical classification. What a pity that men of his type cannot bequeath their wealth of wisdom, worth infinitely more than the chattels they will the world! How unfortunate the riches of their experience is not always given us in books, not, as some agnostic has said, "the only immortality," but the most enduring mortality!

There is not in Colonel Woodward's death the shock that comes with premature passing of men in their prime. His was a well rounded life, marred by but the single sorrow of his unhappy romance. That the intensity of his consequent suffering did not affect the spontaneity of his kindliness is an evidence of his strength of character. For a year he had recognized the approach of the inevitable, and had devoted much time to methodical preparation, as one who arranges his library table before a journey. Cheerful, unafraid he looked into the Shadow of the Valley.

Of his qualities and achievements volumes could be written, but in refraining we but conform to the wish which, could he be consulted, his modest nature would suggest. Rather, we choose to content ourselves with consciousness of the good of his influence, inspired by the reassuring thought that, his labors o'er, he is resting

"As one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him,
And lies down to pleasant dreams."

VERY SMALL AND CHEAP

"Governor McGovern, as reported (his friends will hope misreported) from Madison yesterday declares that the outcry against the high state taxes is 'wholly selfish and commercial,' and emanates from a class of undesirable citizens, including 'every tax dodger,' 'every tricky financier,' 'every food adulterer'—adulterator he doubtless means—every inhuman capitalist, and so on."

The foregoing, from the Milwaukee Sentinel, is too paltry and mean. So futile is the attempt to convict our governor of illiteracy that we wonder that even The Sentinel attempts it. The public sentiment for fair play converts crude insults into votes for the slanderer. Plainly a typographical error, we confess a suspicion that the horrible display of ignorance took place in The Sentinel office.

SHALL WE INSURE AGAINST THE JOB?

One of the latest sociological suggestions is insurance against unemployment. It proposes to indemnify the man who wants to work and cannot get the chance. This covers a large percentage of the cases and takes care of the man who seeks employment. It may be found necessary to add to this insurance for the man who does not want to work, against the predicament of getting a job.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Saving Money

Our dads all tell us we should save
our money all the while,
For every penny helps to make in time a fine large pile.
But it takes quite a lot more now
for folks to keep alive.
Where they paid 15 cents for steak,
we must pay forty-five.

They saved their money, without doubt, but then it was no
trick,
No food trusts then were passing out
to them the golden brick.
At 15 cents a dozen, eggs were quite within their reach.
But when we now buy one or two,
they cost us five cents each.

They used to go and grab a hen at 13 cents a pound,
But 25 cents nowadays is how the chickens sound.
They used to get their better by the crock, ten pounds or so,
But now it strains us to acquire one pound of oleo.

The olden days are past and gone,
our fathers used to know,
When they all had fat bank accounts and sat and watched them grow.
They saved their money, yea, they did, and that we must allow,
We'd like to have them tell us just how much they're saving
NOW.

Slightly Shocked

The limited express tore madly along through midnight darkness. Suddenly the alert engineer sprang to the lever and set the brakes. The sparks flew from the rails as the locked wheels slid along with a cry of pain. The lights were extinguished as car after car toppled from the rails Then came a shuddering silence more terrible than the harsh grating of iron on steel.

Some passengers made torches from fragments of wreckage and searched for dead and injured. A sound singularly like a snore issued from a pile of debris. Hastily removing several pieces of twisted iron, they dragged forth a slumbering porter.

"Great heavens!" they exclaimed. "Didn't you know there had been a wreck?"

"Well, gemmun, I sho' felt somethin' but I done thought we was couplin' on de dinin' cah at Jackson."—Youth's Companion.

The Champaign Cure

"In "Reminiscences of My Life," Mr. Henry Holiday relates an anecdote for which Mr. Gladstone was responsible, and which he compelled a guest to tell the author one evening after dinner. The story relates to Sir Andrew Clark:

A patient of Sir Andrew's, whom he dieted very strictly, when near him at a dinner party, when the servants were filling the champagne glasses, Sir Andrew's included, said:

"I see, Sir Andrew, you don't follow the advice you give your patients."

"How so?" said Sir A.

"Why, you would not allow me to drink champagne as freely as you are doing now."

"My dear sir, you don't understand the exigencies of my profession; I daresay you won't find forty letters waiting to be answered when you get home tonight."

"Very likely not, but you surely don't mean to say that drinking freely of champagne is the best preparation for answering forty letters?"

"Certainly not," said Sir Andrew, "but it is a first-rate thing for getting into that you don't care a damn whether they are answered or not."

Ready for Trial

A gentleman gave a large dinner party in Dublin once and invited Mr. O'Connor, one of the wittiest men in the Emerald isle, to amuse and divert his guests. Mr. O'Connor accepted the invitation with pleasure. But from the begining to the end of dinner he preserved a solemn and serious face. The host thought this very strange, and just before rising from the table remarked to him jestingly:

"Why, O'Connor, old fellow, I don't believe the biggest fool in Ireland could make you laugh tonight."

Whereupon his guest answered in a solemn tone, speaking his first word that evening: "Try."

His Ancestry

Henry Cabot Lodge, though his family is one of the oldest in America, has no sympathy with those who claim descent from and use the arms of William the Conqueror, Richard Coeur de Lion, Charlemagne and so forth. There are, as everybody knows, many such persons.

At one of the New England society dinners in New York a young man, twirling the Hohenzollern crest upon his watch chain, said to Senator Lodge:

"How far can your ancestry be traced?"

"I'm tempted to answer you in the words of Smythe," said Senator Lodge. "Smythe, you know, when this question was put to him, replied:

"'When my great-grandfather suddenly resigned his position as cashier in a Boston bank they traced him as far as Borneo, but he got away.'"

Got Jane, Sure

An old farmer was skeptical as to whether people who were miles apart could really talk to each other over a telephone wire. One day a near neighbor persuaded the farmer to call up his wife as a little surprise.

He put the receiver to his ear and shouted: "Halloa, Jane!"

Just then a flash of lightning, caused by the heat of the summer day, struck the wire, and he fell sprawling to the floor. The neighbor was chagrined that the old man should meet with such an accident on his first trial of a telephone and assured him that such a thing would not happen again except in case of storms.

But he would not try again. He rose to his feet, and, shaking his head knowingly, said:

"It's wonderful! That was Jane all right."

The Mere Formality Won.

"Yes, sir," said the pale, youthful suitor; "I have come to ask you for your daughter's hand. She is fair as lilies, charming"—

"Is that Mary you're talking about?" asked papa.

"Yes, sir. It is a mere formality, I know, this asking for your daughter's hand, but we thought it would be pleasing to you if it were observed."

Mary's papa stiffened.

"And may I inquire," he asked, "who suggested that asking my consent to Mary's marriage was a mere formality?"

"You may, sir," replied the young man simply. "It was Mary's mother."

Warrington, becoming suddenly aware that his pose, if prolonged, would become ridiculous, put on his helmet and proceeded to the Bank of Burma. Today was Wednesday; Thursday week he would sail for Singapore and close the chapter. Before banking hours were over, his financial affairs were put in order, and he walked forth with two letters of credit and enough bank notes and gold to carry him around the world, if so he planned. Next, he visited a pawn-shop and laid down a dozen mutilated tickets, receiving in return a handsome watch, emerald cuff buttons, some stick pins, some pearls, and a beautiful old ruby ring, a gift of the young Maharajah of Udaipur. The ancient Chinaman smiled. This was a rare occasion. Men generally went out of his dark and dingy shop and never more returned.

"Much money. Can do now?" affably.

"Can do," replied Warrington, slipping the treasures into a pocket. What a struggle it had been to hold them! Somehow or other he had always been able to meet the interest; though, often ot accomplish this feat he had been forced to go without tobacco for weeks.

There is a vein of superstition in all of us, deny it how we will. Certain inconsequent things we do or avoid doing. We never walk home on the opposite side of the street. We carry luck-stones and battered pieces of copper that have ceased to serve as coins. We fill the garret with useless junk. Warrington was as certain of the fact as he was of the rising and the setting of the sun, that if he lost these heirlooms, he never could go back to the old familiar world, the world in which he had moved and lived and known happiness. Never again would he part with them. A hundred thousand dollars, almost; with his simple wants he was now a rich man.

"Buy ling?" asked the Chinaman. He rolled a mandarin's ring caressly across the show-case. "Gold: all heavy; velly old, velly good ling."

"What does it say?" asked Warrington, pointing to the characters.

"Good luck and plospeity; velly good signs."

It was an unusually beautiful ring, unusual in that it had no setting of jade. Warrington offered three sovereigns for it. The Chinaman smiled and put the ring away. Warrington laughed and laid down five pieces of gold. The Chinaman swept them up in his lean dry hands. And Warrington departed, wondering if she would accept such a token.

By four o'clock he arrived at the Chinese tailors in the Suley Pagoda Road. He ordered a suit of pongee, to be done at noon the following day. He added to this orders for four other suits, to be finished within a week. Then he went to the shoemaker, to the hatter, to the haberdasher. There was even a light Malacca walking-stick among his purchases. A long time had passed since he had carried a cane. There used to be, once upon a time, a dapper light bamboo which was known up and down Broadway, in the restaurants, the more or less famous bars, and in the lounging rooms of a popular club. All this business because he wanted her to realize what he had been and yet could be. Thus, vanity sometimes works out a man's salvation. And it marked the end of Warrington's recidivation.

When he reached his lodging-house he sought the Burmese landlady. She greeted him with a smile and a stiff little shake of the hand. Had he not set her drunken European sailor-man husband about his business? Had he not freed her from a tyranny of fists and curses? It had not affected her in the least to learn that her sailor-man had been negligently married all the way from Yokohama to Colombo. She was free of him.

Warrington spread out a five-pound note and laid ten sovereigns upon it. "There we are," he said genially; "all paid up to date."

"This?" touching the note.

"A gift for all your patience and kindness."

"You go 'way?' the smile leaving her pretty moon-face.

"Yes."

"You like?" with a gesture which indicated the parlor and its contents. "Be boss? Half an half?"

He shook his head soberly. She picked up the money and jingled it in her hand.

"Goo'-by!" softly.

"Oh, I'm not going until next Thursday."

The smile returned to her face, and her body bent in a kind of kotow. He was so big, and his beard glistened like the gold-leaf on the Shwe Dagon Pagoda. She understood. The white to the white and the brown to the brown; it was the Law.

Warrington went up to his room. He was welcomed by a screech from the parrot and a dignified salaam from James, who was trimming the wick of the oil-lamp. For the last year and a half this room had served as headquarters. Many a financial puzzle had been pieced together within these dull drab walls; many a dream had gone up to the ceiling, only to sink and dissipate like smoke. There were no pictures on the walls, no photographs. In one corner, on the floor, was a stack of dilapidated books. These were mostly old novels and tomes dealing with geological and mathematical matters; laughter and tears and adventure, sandwiched in between the dry positiveness of straight lines and squares and circles and numerals without end: DArtagnan hobnobbing with Euclid! Warrington was an educated man, but he was in no sense a scholar. In his hours of leisure he did not find solace in the classics. He craved for a good blood-red tale, with lots of fighting and love-making and pleasant endings.

James applied a match to the wick, and the general poverty of the room was instantly made manifest.

"Well, old sober-top, suppose we square up and part like good friends?"

"I am always the Sahib's good friend."

"Right as rain!" Warrington emptied his pockets upon the table; silver and gold and paper. "Eh? That's the stuff. Without it the world's not worth a tinker's dam. Count out seventy pounds, James."

"Sixty-seven."

"Seventy or nothing," declared Warrington, putting his hands down upon the glittering metals. Rupees and sovereigns never lose their luster in the East.

Calmly, then, James took sovereign after sovereign until he had withdrawn the required sum. "Gold is heavy, Sahib," he commented.

IF MEALS SOUR AND TURN INTO GAS, TAKE SODA

When everything we eat turns to gas and we eructate sour food and acrid fluids it means there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach, says a noted authority. This irritating acid retards the process of digestion and promotes food fermentation. Our meals sour in the Stomach like garbage sours in a can, forming gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, causing a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, constant belching of gas, sour risings or heartburn, fullness and often nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy a package of 10 grain Sodagen tablets and take on tablet anytime followed by a tumbler of water which will instantly neutralize acidity, stop food fermentation, absorb the gases and sweeten the entire digestive system.

He further states that those troubled with chronic acidity should take one tablet regularly, an hour after meals for a while, as this simple antacid is entirely harmless, being composed of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. S. P.

SAYS SPECULATION WILL LOSE HOLD

Tendency to Be Curbed When New Currency Law Is in Operation, Says Prof. Scott

CHICAGO, March 14.—Tendency toward speculation in America will be curbed and strictly legitimate business enterprises will profit when the new currency system is in operation, Prof. W. A. Scott of the University of Wisconsin, told the annual conference of the Western Economic society, at its closing session today.

The practice of hoarding money in banks should be entirely discontinued in time if the currency system works successfully, Prof. Scott added, and banks will become accustomed to rely upon the federal reserve banks for their daily supplies of cash, as European banks do upon their central institutions.

"The call loan business on the New York Stock exchange, it seems almost certain, will be considerably diminished," said Prof. Scott. "The stock broker will not longer have the advantage over all other classes of borrowers of being able to furnish the most easily marketable security. On the contrary he will be at a disadvantage in comparison with merchants and manufacturers because his paper will not be rediscountable at the federal reserve banks."

HIGHS REPEAT IN NORMAL DEFEAT

Pedagogues Lost a Hard Fought Game 23 to 11 After Making Desperate Fight to Catch Up

The high school basket ball team last night defeated the Normal quintet for the second time this season by the score of twenty-three to eleven. The game was attended by a large crowd of high school and Normal students who tried to drown each other's cheering. The playing of both teams was clean, and few fouls were called.

The High team put in two baskets during the first five minutes of the game. During the first half the Normal squad made only five points. At the end of the half the score stood sixteen to five.

The second half the teams played about even. Borge Gunderson, now playing with the Normal team, played a fast, hard game. Griffin made the most points for the Normal, having two field baskets to his credit at the end of the game. Weisse came back last night with six field baskets and one free throw to his credit at the end of the game.

Lineup was as follows: High school—Weisse, c.; Fay, g.; Garder, g.; Zesler, f.; Meinert, f.; Verket, f.; and Bruha, g.

Normal—Gunderson, c.; Byers, g.; Glassbrenner, g.; Griffin, f.; Strum, f.; and Wachter, g.

Mr. Carter of the Normal school refereed.

LOHENGRIN
SOMETHING ABOUT THIS FAMOUS OPERA
THE BRIDAL CHORUS
TRANSLATION

The "Heart Song" illustrated in today's issue of the Tribune is the famous Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. To untold thousands of people this wedding march recalls the most joyous moment of their lives.

In sequence of writing this great opera is the seventh of Wagner's productions for the stage. The poem was written at Dresden in 1845; the music begun in September, 1846; the instrumentation of the ensuing winter and spring; and the first performance took place August 28, 1850, at Weimar.

The opera has always been especially popular in the United States and England, not only on account of the wondrous beauty of the music—but because the legend itself has been embodied in English literature from early times.

The translation of the words used in Heart Songs is very beautiful, and match the music almost as well as if they had been writen for it originally.

The Lohengrin Bridal Chorus, or wedding March, is only one of several celebrated compositions of this kind that appear in the book—and it is this completeness and accuracy that make it universally interesting and absolutely a work that no home should do without.

HEART SONGS is one of the great books of the century. It will charm, entertain and instruct every member of the family. It has five hundred large pages, including over four hundred selections, words and music, and is now being distributed by The Tribune to its friends and readers on presentation of six consecutively dated coupons clipped from the paper, and the bare cost of distribution. Books in two styles of binding are on display at the Tribune office, and the choice is optional, as set forth elsewhere in this issue.

ROAD COMMISSION FOR CONVICT WORK

MADISON, Wis., March 14.—The Wisconsin state highway commission on Friday abolished the Milwaukee engineering d. sion for supervision of road construction in Milwaukee and surrounding counties, instructed Chief Engineer A. R. Hirt to supervise the work from Madison. The commission did this because the division engineer, E. B. Parson of Watertown, resigned and no competent engineer could be secured for the salary which the commission wanted to pay, which is $1,800 a year.

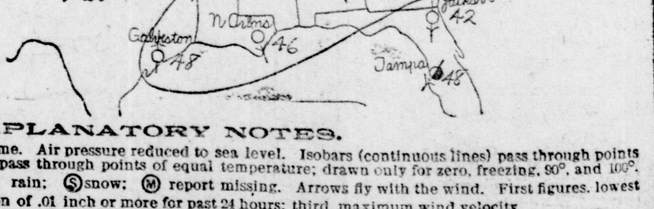

The commission approved a resolution adopted by the state board of control last week, providing for the employment of convict labor on a state highway running from Waupun to Chester, on a highway from Tomahawk to the proposed state tuberculosis sanitarium at Big Tomahawk lake and on highways in state parks. Arrangements for the season's work were made.

COLLEGE MEET ON AT VARSITY GYM

MADISON, Wis., March 14.—The second annual interstate college meet will be held at the Wisconsin gym annex tonight. Lawrence, Carroll, Beloit, Ripon and Oshkosh Normal will be represented by fast track teams which will compete with the Badger teams for the championship of the state. This afternoon will be given over to a duel wrestling and gymnastic meet with the Chicago teams. The gymnastic meet will be an exhibition affair, as only four Wisconsin men are eligible to compete.

A spring festival of music is planned by the Madison Choral union. This festival will be similar to the Yuletide festival, but will be on a larger scale. The festival will take place April 20 and 21.

ANDERSON TO ASK ROLL-CALL PROBE

May Introduce Resolution for Investigation of Mystery Over Mulhall Report

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Representative Sydney Anderson of Minnesota, today had under consideration the introduction of a resolution to investigate the "mystery" surrounding the recent controversial roll call on the reference of the Mulhall lobby report. Speaker Clark and Representative MacDonald aver that twenty-three members demanded a roll call. Forty-seven have written the National Voters' league that they arose to demand it.

Anderson said today that he wished to make further personal investigation among the members before taking steps to put in his proposed resolution.

If members did not arise—as Speaker Clark claimed in his recent attack on Prof. Charles Zueblin—they may "pass the buck" by claiming their secretaries read league's letter. Or, if they still insist that they arose for the count, the only purpose served by the resolution would be to place Speaker Clark's statement in a bad light, unless he can produce some witness, like Representative MacDonald, to support his claim of a correct count.

While the family tree of the elephant runs mostly to trunk, that of the chorus girl does nothing of the sort.

MISTAKE TO KILL CROWS SAYS PROF.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 14.—Oklahoma farmers who have asked Gov. Cruse to proclaim a "crow killing day" are making a big mistake, according to F. L. Washburn, expert entomologist at the state agricultural school today. "By killing insects and worms, the crows would more than pay for any damage they may do to newly seeded ground," said Mr. Washburn. "They should be frightened from fields with scarecrows but not killed. Every crow is worth several dollars to the farmers."

OBJECT TO PINK AND GREEN COLORS

GRAND FORKS, N. D., March 14.—Agitation at the University of North Dakota for a change in the colors from the pink and green to some other combination has resulted in a call for a special election at the University, when the question will be voted on. Several combinations of colors outside the pink and green have been suggested. Two years ago the athletic department adopted the black and gold, and those colors may become the official university combination.

WOMEN BAND TO ELECT UNIONISTS

DENVER, Col., March 14.—Nine thousand Colorado women have organized a labor union to elect union men or union sympathizers to the state legislature and to congress. Most of the names on the rolls are that of wives of daughters of striking coal miners. In sixty days, however, it is predicted, there will be 20,000 members. Application for a charter was made to the state federation of labor today.

ALCOHOL EXPLODES CHILD IS KILLED

ALLISON, Iowa, March 14.—The infant child of Mrs. Herman Waller is dead here today and the mother lies probably fatally burned as the result of the explosion of a bottle containing alcohol and which fell on a hot stove.

Herman Waller, the husband and father, was arrested early today, and faces sentence to the inebriate asylum at Knoxville.

He was present at his home when the accident occurred.

PUTS 11 BULLETS INTO HIS HEAD

LINTON, N. D., March 14.—Eleven bullets were fired by Louis F. Foell, 62 years old, into his head before he succeeded in ending his life with a small repeating rifle. His dead body was found by his son. Seven of the bullets had passed entirely through his skull. Foell had recently arranged for the division of his property after his death.

BLOWS OFF HEAD WITH HIS SHOTGUN

CALUMET, Mich., March 14.—Arthur Seebley, an Ontonagon farmer, crossed over the Houghton county line some time on Thursday and with a shotgun killed himself by blowing off the top of his head. The body was found on Friday.

The Folding Bed Brave

Colonel Roosevelt at a luncheon at Oyster Bay, told a hunting story.

"Smith," he said, "had a narrow from being killed by a lion in Nairobi.

"'When the lion closed its jaws on you, asked a friend, 'did you give yourself up for lost?'

"'O, no,' Smith answered calmly, 'you see, I sleep in a folding bed.'"

A Long Drought.

They were discussing the drought in a small town, says Everybody's Magazine, and some one asked an old farmer:

"How would you like to see it rain, Hiram?"

"I don't care about it myself," he replied, "but I've got a boy six years old who would like to see it rain."

Y. W. C. A. DOINGS

The L. U. B. A. club of the Young Women's Christian association will hold one of the regular social meetings at the association building at 8 o'clock tonight. All members are urged to be present, in addition to which any young woman who desires to spend a pleasant evening is cordially invited to come.

The juniors of the Y. W. C. A. met this afternoon for their regular fortnightly meeting. Sewing first engaged the time of the girls, after which a social time was enjoyed.

The annual mask party of the gymnasium classes will be given in about two weeks, and all members of the physical department are busily engaged in planning their costumes.

DINNER FOR FACULTY

President and Mrs. F. A. Cotton of the Normal school, entertained at a dinner last evening, their guests being members of the faculty and their wives. Places were laid for fifty-five. Decorations were baskets and vases of daffodils and sweet peas. The young ladies, ten in number, of Miss Spence's domestic science class, assisted in serving. After the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cotton furnished some delightful music. The guests were the local state regent, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wolfe, Messrs. and Mesdames A. H. Bernhard, G. H. Bretnall, John M. Bridgham, D. A. Coate, J. A. Fairchild, A. J. Lewis, E. D. Long, J. R. Moore, F. E. Nurse, Homer Cotton, W. H. Saunders, A. H. Sanford, Bruce Stickle, M. W. BRIDAL SHOWER

Misses Selma Hanson and Lillian Walters were hostesses at a shower at the home of the latter, 1004 La Crosse street, Thursday evening, in honor of Miss Lillian Ortmeir, a bride to be. The guest of honor was presented with several pieces of beautiful cut glass. Those present were Lillian Ortmeir, Theresa Zimmer, Julia Hanson, Anna Yanzer, Jessie Erickson, Tillie Vongle, Clara Larson, Helen Reef, Malinda Bosch, Virginia Spettle, Anna Seiler, Louise Ratz, Helen Walters, Lillian Walters, Selma Hanson, Mrs. M. Lawler and Mrs. H. Franz. The evening was spent in playing games, prizes being won by Miss Ortmeir, Miss Erickson and Miss Seiler. Refreshments were served at an early hour after which the guests departed for their home.

FOURTEEN PARTY

Miss Ruth Bakkum of 343 South Twenty-second street, was surprised by fourteen girls on her fourteenth birthday, the fourth of March, 1914. Decorations were green candles, shamrocks, table cloth and napkins. Dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Hulda Braathen, Petra Johnson, Esther Limoseth, Amanda Lerum, Cora Erickson, Helen Erickson, Muriel Benrud, Vera McCaleb, Bessie Nelson, Agnes Strand, Emma Hynne, Alice Hynne, Gwendolyn Dawson, Ruth Bakkum.

STAG DINNER

Mrs. Albert Roberge entertained at a dinner Thursday evening for her husband. A basket of violets and sweet peas graced the center of the table. After the bountiful menu a smoker was inaugurated. The guests were Doctors G. F. Hauser, Herbert Seidler, Schleiter, Messrs. Otto Schlabach, H. B. Bozard, J. J. Shmitt, Walter Roberge and Walter Lowery.

BIRTHDAY EVENTS

Mrs. Roberge entertained a few of her neighbors at a coffee Thursday afternoon, it being her birthday. Those present were Mrs. Henry Rooney, Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Schleiter, Mrs. J. J. Schmitt and Miss Anna Goodland.

Mrs. Herman Roesler was surprised Thursday afternoon by a number of her friends in honor of her fiftieth birthday. Supper was served at five o'clock. A number of pretty gifts were presented to the hostess. Those present were Mesdames J. Servais and family, J. Meinertz and family, Messrs. and Mesdames George Roesler and family, John Sabkowiak, Ed. BILL BURGESS HAS BIRTHDAY

The seventh birthday of Bill Burgess, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Burgess, was celebrated today by that young man with a St. Patrick's Day party, when he entertained a number of his young friends. The decorations were unique and appropriate. In the center of the table was a pig with green flags. The place cards were shamrocks, the cakes were decorated with green icing and as far as possible the color scheme carried out the Emerald Isle color.

The little guests were Billy Mainguy, Oscar John Hulberg, Billy Salzer, Potter Brayton, Dick Brayton, Lawrence Furstman, Frederick Reiman, Billy McDonough, Joe McDonough, Ellen Salzer, Zeta McDonough, Gertrude Reiman, Dorothy Higgins, Frances Burgess, Buddy Burgess, Mary Jane Koppelberger.

SEWING BEE

The Woman's union of the First Congregational church will be entertained at a sewing bee at the home of Mrs. J. H. McConnell on Thursday afternoon of next week.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Rudiger and two children will be in the city next week for a visit at the home of Mrs. Rudiger's brother, A. M. Brayton, 1924 Cass street. Dr. and Mrs. Rudiger are on their way from Grand Forks, N. D., where for a number of years past Dr. Rudiger has been an instructor in the state university of North Dakota, to La Salle, Ill., where he will be engaged in similar work.

VESPERS IN CHARGE OF MRS. FAIRCHILD

Mrs. James Fairchild, wife of Professor Fairchild of the normal school faculty, has been secured for a talk to association members at the vesper service of the Young Women's Christian association tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Fairchild has selected for her subject "Literary Gems from the Bible," and the talk will no doubt prove both interesting and profitable to those who hear her. Special music has been provided for the service, Miss Mary E. Damon having acceded to the request of the committee for a solo.

At the last meeting of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin the business manager was authorized to ask for bids for excavations and foundations for the physics building, liberal arts building and the soils building.

PE-RU-NA LAXATIVE-TONIC

Since taking Peruna my bowels have become perfectly regular. I was hardly aware that I was taking a laxative at all. I commenced taking the Peruna for its tonic qualities. It seemed to me I was in need of a tonic. Peruna acted as a splendid tonic in my case, and to my surprise it also regulated my bowels. I am in splendid condition. I am three or four times as capable for business today as I was a month ago. I am sure that the whole credit is due to Peruna.

Those who object to Liquid Medicine will find Peruna Tablets a desirable remedy for CATARRHAL CONDITIONS.

EPWORTH LEAGUES OF THE CITY MEET

Gather at the First M. E. Church and Hear Rev. Oadams Talk

An enthusiastic gathering of Methodist young people of the Epworth leagues of the First, West Avenue, Caledonia St. and First German Methodist Episcopal churches was held last night at the First Methodist church rooms on King street.

The pastor, Rev. T. S. Oadams, delivered an address of welcome in which he outlined a "policy of greater activity in every league towards concerted action in upholding heroic ideals of Methodism and broad, aggressive work for a realization of the kingdom of heaven here on earth among our fellow men.

"In this work," he said "the young people must throw out the skirmish line and be the vanguard of real christianity that is unfearing and unfaltering for the interests of the great common people. Knowing no caste, limitation or distinction, and with the watchword of the great founder of Methodism, 'The world is my parish,' even in our hearing, let us 'do with our might what our hands and hearts find to do'—and let us do it now."

Nearly a hundred young people of the city were present. The name of the Young People's City Union of Epworth leagues was changed to include La Crosse "and vicinity." In the absence of the president, Mr. Hale Stowe presided and the program furnished by his committee for entertainment, was varied, unique and greatly enjoyed by all present. Refreshments were served by the league of the First church and the young people departed for their homes at a late hour, declaring this was one of the best meetings of the city union yet held.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN ILLINOIS

Mrs. Karl Rasmussen, aged 56 years, formerly Miss Ragnil Swennes of the town of Barre, died at her home at Lake Forest, Ill., Thursday according to word received here by relatives yesterday. The funeral was held this afternoon at Lake Forest. Mrs. Rasmussen was the daughter of the late O. Swennes and was born in the town of Barre where she resided until her marriage 23 years ago. She is survived by two sons and one daughter of Lake Forest and leaves several distant relatives in La Crosse county.

Renamed by the Irish.

When the duke of Wellington was conducting the peninsular wars he had with him several Irish regiments. One of these stationed in Porto came to like the place so much that the men decided to make it immortal with the O'Tooles and O'Haras. Hence the town known to the Portuguese as Porto has ever since been blazoned far and wide to the rest of the world as Oporto.

WEEK FINANCIAL

BANK STATEMENT

NEW YORK, March 14. — The weekly actual bank statement issued today showed the following changes:

Surplus increased $5,339,800.
Loans decreased $7,317,000.
Specie increased $8,103,000.
Legals decreased $1,459,000.
Deposits increased $5,942,000.
Circulation decreased $36,000.
Surplus reserve $23, 016,300.

NEW YORK, March 14. — The movement of recovery, which began on the Stock exchange yesterday, continued at a leisurely pace today. A rather decided advance in active shares occurred at the market's opening; fractional reaction from the early high prices followed; then, in the second hour, the upward movement was resumed, with only moderate reaction at the close.

The gains were fractional, but affected pretty much all the market and they resulted, apparently from repurchases by recent speculative sellers. London's distinctly more cheerful temper, reflected by the further rise in consols and by the cabled opinions from that market, undoubtedly had some reflex influence on our stock exchange.

There was little news. The week closed with no tangible signs of renewed activity in general business. The rather notable increase in cotton exports continued and merchandise imports at New York still fail to show the large increase which had been predicted as a result of the lower tariff. Foreign exchange advanced another fraction, but it is still below parity and in favor of this market.

SHE SWOONS IN COURT

WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND FAINTS WHEN ASKED TO TAKE STAND

CHICAGO, March 14. — Mrs. Louise Van Keuren, on trial here for the murder of her husband, swooned and fell unconscious in Judge Walker's court room today, when her attorney asked her if she desired to take the stand in her own defense.

For half an hour, the little woman lay motionless in an ante-room while physicians worked over her. She wept and shrieked hysterically when finally revived and counsel for the defense abandoned the plan to have her tell her story. The defense then rested and closing arguments were begun with the understanding that the case would reach the jury at about 5 p. m.

WONEWOC WOMAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Frank Hoyt, wife of Frank Hoyt of Wonewoc, Wis., died yesterday afternoon of a complication of diseases at a local hospital at the age of 37 years. Besides her husband she is survived by six children, her mother, Mrs. Minna Utke of this city, five sisters, Josephine Utke and Mrs. W. Edwards of La Crosse, Mrs. Gordon Love of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. Charles Fisher and Mrs. A. Weisse of Tomah, and two brothers, Rudolph Utke of Milwaukee and Adolp Utke of Princeton, Wis. The body will be taken to Wonewoc Monday for interment.

ELECT ANDERSON HEAD OF DISTRICT

Local Pastor Re-elected at Closing Session of Lutheran Chufch Convention

At the session of the Norwegian Lutheran convention this morning in the West Avenue Norwegian Lutheran church, Rev. R. Andersen was re-elected president and Rev. O. O. Sovde of Coon Valley, secretary. Pigeon Falls, Wis., was decided upon as the place for the next convention to be held sometime next fall.

Rev. E. O. Hofstad of Viroqua, spoke in English last night, fi his theme being "The Value of Ideals." He said that a man should not always be judged by the results of his efforts but by the motives and ideals prompting them. A man's ideals will live with him forever, he said.

The regular sermon tomorrow morning will be preached by Rev. John Mattson of Mauston. The communicants will be addressed by Rev. J. A. Orke of Pigeon Falls, Wis. The meeting tomorrow evening will be in the nature of a farewell service at which a number of the visiting pastors will give short addresses.

When asked concerning the possibilities of the union of the different bodies of the Norwegian churches, Rev. Sovde said that he considered the time near when the three bodies, the United Lutherans, the Norwegian Synod and the Hauges Synod would unite under one synod. At present, there is no marked disagreement in doctrine, but the churches all unable to do their best work, separated as they are.

LICENSE NOT TAKEN FROM E. W. SCHULTZE

The La Crosse police today denied a story that the hall license had been taken away from E. W. Schultze, owner of Liberty hall, 415 King street.

"There was a technical mistake in Mr. Schultze's license," said one of the police officials this morning, "and for that reason it had to go back to the city clerk. The license was brought back merely to correct an error."

Acting Mayor Torrance today announced that the theater board had not passed upon the application of Mr. Schultze for a license.

"I told him to go ahead and run, the same as always, and that the matter would be fixed up," he said.

CARY AND VAN HISE DEBATE THE "U"

State Superintendent and President of School Clash Before Lunch Club

SHOWS HOW STATE GETS VALUE

Van Hise Explains How Wisconsin Profits by Work of the School

MADISON, Wis., March 14.—(Special.)—The university's part in running administrative affairs in the state government was criticised by State Superintendent C. P. Cary before the Saturday Lunch club today. The university was the topic for discussion, and other speakers included President C. R. Van Hise and Lynn S. Pease of Milwaukee, a former president of the Alumni association, who directed his remarks against certain tendencies of the extension department.

Superintendent Cary saw danger to the educational side of the university in its reaching out to carry on administrative work in many directions. So far as it seeks to "run the affairs of the government," he declared, it is in politics.

Attacks Graduate Work

Mr. Cary said in part:

"I wish to speak of certain lines of mistaken policy that have characterized our state instituion during the past ten years. Chief of these is the executive and unreasonable relative importance attached to graduate and research work as compared with regular college work. Most of the evils within the university walls at the present time may be traced to the false emphasis placed upon these two phases of university work. One result is a large amount of cheap instruction in the freshman and sophomore classes by assistants who are paid five or six hundred dollars a year for half time instruction, and at the same time are working for higher degrees, or perhaps, in a few instances, for the bachelor's degree. Some two years ago twenty-six per cent of the faculty was composed of these assistants, though some of them were confining their atentions strictly to laboratory work rather than quizzing and instructing classes."

Gets Value for Money

President Van Hise dwelt principally upon the economic results of the university's many sided activities. He declared the annual increase in wealth of the state due to the university is many times the amount contributed to the university by the state. He instanced an increase from $21,000,000 to $30,000,000 in the value of butter products in twenty years, due largely to the college of agriculture: pure bred seed development meaning several millions yearly to Wisconsin farmers; the King ventilation system, nursery extension, improvement of pure bred animals, ets. He pointed out grea reductions in losses as a result of oat smut remedies, potato sprays, tuberculosis serum, and other agencies discovered or produced at the university. Similar benefits by the college of engineering were cited. The work of the hygienic laboratory in its influence for reducing sickness and preserving health was also mentioned.

Hits Financial Critics

Discussing the financial end, the president said:

"The amazing statements have been repeatedly made that the university costs the stae $3,000,000 a year. Of the money available for general operations and maintenance the current year, amounting to $1,728,649, it is estimated that $397,790 will be derived from sources other than the state. Here are included tuition fees, federal grants, interest on funds, and other miscellaneous sources. This leaves $1,339,869 as the amount derived from the state. But of this the following amounts are spent for the benefit of the state as a whole, and they have no relation to the students at Madison. Here are included extension, general and agricultural and farmers' institutes, which together cost $210,000; also seed inspection, demonstrations, agricultural printing, contagious abortion, hog cholera serum, pharmaceutical experiment stations, county agricultural representatives, soils laboratory, and the hygienic laboratory, which together cost $35,000. The total of these two is $265,000. Taking the sum from the amount available for current operation and maintenance leaves for expenditure at Madison $1,065,869. Of this amount a small portion will remain unexpended at the end of the year.

HOLD FUNERAL OF JOHANNES NELSON

The funeral services of Johannes Nelson, who died Thursday morning at a local hospital following a long illness with a complication of diseases, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his brother, Peter Nelson, 1708 State street, and at 2:30 at the Charles St. Norwegian Lutheran church, Rev. E. O. Vik officiating. Interment was made in the Campbell cemetery.

HOLD ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Between 75 and 100 young people of the town of Campbell and of La Crosse were in attendance at an ice cream social given by school district No. 3 of the town of Campbell at the town hall last night. Singing and musical entertainments were the feature of the evening.

CHARGES WILSON IS BRITISH ADVOCATE

Californian Bitterly Attacks President for Stand on Canal Tolls

HE CALLS REPEAL COWARDICE

Declares Abandonment of Monroe Doctrine Is the Logical Result of Position

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Flatly charging President Wilson with "advocating the case of Great Britain," Representative Knowland, California republican, today filed a minority report from the house interstate commerce committee on the Panama canal tolls repeal bill. In stinging words he charged that British domination has caused demand for the repeal, and that abandonment of the Monroe doctrine would be the logical result of following the majority's views. He branded the present administration's attitude a "peace-at-any-price policy."

"A situation unparalleled in history now confronts the nation" he said. "The custodian of our rights, our agent in dealing with foreign affairs, advocates the case of Great Britain. We are left without a spokesman. With no attempt to settle through diplomatic channels, with no suggestion of referring this vital question to arbitration, unconditional and complete surrender is urged."

Knowland held that passage of the repeal bill would be "cowardice" and announce to the world that this nation had abandoned, under foreign pressure, its "traditional policy."

completing his education at De Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind., and at Columbian university, Washington. He gained his education while working his way as a printer. He was admitted to the bar in 1894. He has been a resident of Jackson county practically all his life, and for a number of years has been engaged in the practice of his profession and publisher of the Jackson county Journal at Black River Falls. Years ago he was elected clerk of the court for Jackson county. In 1906 he was elected district attorney, and in 1908, 1910 and 1912 he was elected to the state assembly, each time without opposition. At the 1913 session he was elected speaker after a three cornered contest in the republican caucus.

As a champion of the common schools of the state he gained early prominence in the legislature, and his stand on appropriation measures during all his legislative experience is widely known. He has taken an active interest in all measures for the improvement of agricultural conditions and particularly for rural schools in country districts.

MEDIUM TO DRAW SPIRIT PICTURES

If the spirit moves her, the people of La Crosse will see spirit pictures drawn through the medium of Mrs. George F. Fields of Minneapolis, at the Spiritualists' convention to be held at the Masonic temple, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Mrs. Fields will have several pictures on exhibition which were drawn while she was in a trance, and which she claims are the work of spirits. She is incapable of drawing when not in a trance. During the convention Mrs. Fields, it is said, will hold a seance in the hope of exhibiting the work of the spirits.

Many spirit drawings, including several owned in La Crosse, will be exhibited at the convention.

PROMISES SHELTER TO ALL FOREIGNERS

Carranza Declares He Will Protect All Regardless of Nationality

BRYAN NOTE RELIEVES HUERTA

Acknowledgment of Protest Prevents Dictator from Giving Charge Passports

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A promise that all foreigners without respect to nationality will be protected in territory controlled by Mexican constitutionalists has been made by General Carranza. He sent a letter to Consul Simpich, at Nogales, outlining his position. The text was made public by the state department today.

Wants Representatives

The constitutionalist commander in chief still insists that governments, other than America, should take steps to be at least unofficially represented in the territory over which troops hold sway. He denied emphatically and explicitly that he has ever tried to force recognition of his belligerency at the hands of the governments that recognized the Huerta regime.

Note Relieves Huerta

MEXICO CITY, March 14.—Secretary of State Bryan's formal note, received here today, acknowledging the receipt of the Huerta government's protest against the lifting of the United States embargo on the importation of arms into Mexico, averted a serious situation, according to Mexican officials.

"It would have been necessary to have given Charge Nelson O'Shaughnessy his passports, had the Washington government not replied to General Huerta's protest," said an official connected with the foreign office.

The Bryan note was somewhat of a disappointment to the government as it did not go beyond the acknowledgment of the protest.

HIGHS TO MEET SPARTA SATURDAY

The management of the high school basketball team has received word from Sparta that they are willing to come here and play La Crosse a return game on the local floor. The game has been arranged for next Saturday evening. A large attendance is expected because Sparta and La Crosse are old rivals in this branch of athletics. Sparta will doubtless bring a large crowd of rooters along. The local high school was defeated at Sparta a short time since and the team has decided to wipe out their defeat by beating Sparta this game.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET IN CHURCH

The Young People's society of the Bethel Lutheran church was entertained last evening in the church parlors by Messrs. McCormac and Mikkelberg. Beside talks by Rev. O. L. Christensen a very interesting program was given by members of the society. Vocal solos were given by Owen Whistler, Laura Scholberg, Eugene Luening, Edna Sorenson and Mary Coughlin, and a duet by the Misses Wall and Mekvold. Piano solos were rendered by Irene Sorenson, Edna Lauman and Ray Larson, and duets by Alice Ahlstrom and Doris Kathary, and Ruth and Owen Whistler. Miss Esther Noem played a very pretty mandolin solo. The Misses Josie Anderson and Edna Goulke gove recitations.

After the program, refreshments were served by the younc ladies of the society.

KAREL "MUM" ON STATE POLITICS

Judge J. C. Karel, Milwaukee, generally conceded to be a candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, arrived in La Crosse today.

"I am in the city on probate court business," said Judge Karel. "I have nothing to say politically. My visit to La Crosse is purely pripate."

Children Need Protection.

Because they have less resisting power, children are more susceptible to all kinds of disease germs than older persons. This is why every child should be early taught to avoid the habits which lead to infection. It is little short of a criminal risk to allow a child to work or play in a room or yard that is not clean as it can be made.

Bull Disturbed Services.

A bull attended church, where mass was being celebrated, in Terragon, Spain, recently. The congregation was seized with panic and stampeded, two persons being seriously injured. The animal was finally shot inside the church.

The Pioneer of The Past and of The Future

Maxwell "25-4" 5 Passenger Touring Car $750

THE OLDEST, and yet the newest car at the Automobile Shows is the Maxwell "25."

NO NAME DATES FURTHER BACK in this industry—and yet if you look where the crowd blocks the aisle, you'll agree that visitors consider the latest Maxwell, the "25-4," the newest of them all.

TO SAY THIS $750 CAR IS THE "SENSATION" of the 1914 shows would be trite—though true. It is more than that.

IT IS REVOLUTIONARY.

REVOLUTIONARY, because never before has it been possible to obtain a car of such size, such capacity, such power, such performance and of such quality, throughout, as you will see in this Maxwell "25" at the price, $750, fully equipped.

REVOLUTIONARY, TOO, because maintenence cost has been reduced to the minimum by putting in this car the best steels known to science—thus making it light, yet practically indestructible. So you can now, not only afford to buy, but keep an automobile.

WE CALL IT AN ENGINEERING TRIUMPH. And you'll agree we are justified when you recall that for years, hundreds of thousands have been looking, hoping, waiting, for such a car at the price.

WE SAY THIS CAR IS THE OLDEST car in the show—because more years of experience; more combined engineering skill; more know-how have gone into it than ever went into any other automobile at the price.

AND, BACKING UP THAT EXPERIENCE, that skill, is as much money as ever backed an automobile concern.

ADD TO THIS, HONESTY OF PURPOSE, pride and a desire to make good and deserve well at the hands of every owner—and you have the elements that combined have produced this car that is the wonder of every show, that blocks the aisle in front of the exhibit, and thereby is proclaimed the Newest as well as the Oldest car in the show—the Pioneer of the Past—and of the future—the Maxwell "25."

Call and have this car demonstrate itself for you—we won't have to do any talking. Place your order now and be assured of prompt delivery.

GIANTS AND MACKS PICKED AS WINNERS

Line-ups Indicate McGraw and Mack Squads Will Pick Up World's Series Money

BY HAL SHERIDAN.
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 14.—One month from today the flag will drop and the races which hold the country by the ears from April until October will be on.

Owing to the raids of the federals the season at this early date again promises to have its final blow off at the Polo grounds and Shibe park. The opposition to the Giants and Athletics has been weakened by the slices and cuts of the Gilmore aggregation. So when October rolls around the old argument of whether a clouting team will overcome superior pitching probably will be up for settlement again in the world's series. The National league may be expected to do some patching and general quilt work before the fight progresses far.

George Stallings is one of the happiest managers in the league with Johnny Evers in his lineup, and a fast bunch of youngsters for his infield. If anyone challenges McGraw for the right to go up against the slugging Mackian forces Stallings believes he will be the man.

Frank Chance promises to blaze through the American league with his Yanks this year; that is, it will be blazing for the Yanks if they climb near the top of the second division. He has rebuilt the entire team he was handed by Owner Farrell. Chance has developed tire trouble in his camp at Houston and today has two men out on account of illness.

FRED BEELE LOSES MATCH TO AMERICUS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 14.—Before a crowd of 10,000 in convention hall, Americus defeated Fred Beele in less than seven minutes. Americus took the first fall in 4:47 with a half-Nelson and body. Beele was not down in the second round but asked the referee to call it a fall as his right arm was hurt and he could not continue. It lasted 2:10.

RICHIE AFTER JOB

SHREVEPORT, La., March 14.—Lurid Lew Richie, former Chicago Cub twirler and now holding out for more money from the Kansas City American association club, wired Joe Tinker of the Chicago Federals today, asking for a job. Tinker replied that his pitching staff was complete but he would pass Richie's bid along to one of the other Federal crews.

BEACH PATROL TARTS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 14.—Lake navigation was given an official boost yesterday when the government ordered the Jones Island life saving station opened for the season. This morning the first watch and first patrol of the season were on duty.

A. A. SCHEDULE UP

CHICAGO, March 14.—American association magnates met at the Auditorium hotel today to adopt a schedule that probably will consist of 168 games. Formal approval of the transfer of the Toledo club to Cleveland was the only other business of importance to come up.

TEACHERS TO UNIONIZE

CLEVELAND, O., March 14.—Miss Marie Claus, president of the City Teachers' club today announced that a meeting will be held on Tuesday to consider a "teachers' labor union," and affiliation with the local federation of labor.

FANS IN DISPUTE OVER DECISION

Milwaukee Sportsmen Can't Agree and Both Wolgast and Ritchie Claim a Victory

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 14.—With the smoke of the battle cleared away, both Willie Ritchie and Ad Wolgast, principals in the historic ring encounter at the Auditorium Thursday night, left the city yesterday for Chicago. Ritchie has signed for a week's theatrical engagement in the Windy city. Wolgast will go directly to his home in Cadillac, Mich.

Before departing Ritchie expressed himself as thoroughly pleased with the way he was treated while here. He said the boxing patrons of the middle west are about the most fair minded men that he has ever fought before. Ritchie wants to appear in this city again, and it is likely that some match will be arranged for him at a later date. Officials of the Queensbury Athletic club have several good boxers under consideration and will make an effort to bring the title holder back for a match in May. Charley White, Leach Cross or Harlem Tommy Murphy would provide a good set-to with Ritchie.

In the sporting marts of the city yesterday the chief topic of discussion centered around the victor in Thursday's scrap. Many were inclined to concede Ritchie the victor on points while others held that a draw was the only fair verdict. Still others, but they were in the minority, believed that Wolgast deserved a shade degree.

Both Ritchie and Wolgast continued to claim they were entitled to the decision. Ritchie insisted that if Wolgast had stood up and boxed he would have given the Wolverine a thorough lacing. Wolgast, on the contrary, declared that he was forced to be the aggressor and he said that if he had not kept after Ritchie all of the time the contest would have developed into a tame exhibition.

CAN FILL OTHER'S TERM

MADISON, Wis., March 14.—In an opinion to District Attorney Davis, Green Bay, Attorney General Owen this morning ruled that while a county treasurer cannot be elected to more than two consecutive terms, he may be reappointed to serve out an unexpired term after having been elected twice.

NEW RECORD MADE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 14.—John Hoernig, local skater, today holds the world's half mile record, having negotiated the distance in one minute, 16 1-5 seconds, two-fifths of a second faster than the mark held by Charles Rankin of Toronto. Hoernig participated in the indoor championship races here last night.

Pessimistic Rufus.

"What means dis heah p'litical 'conomy?" asked Rastus, who was endeavoring to wade through a paper. "Frum de way de pol'ticians down ouah wahd is actin'," answered Rufus, "I s'spects it means de mos' votes foh de least money."

Studebaker

SIX

Electrically Lighted—Electrically Started

$1575

F. O. B. DETROIT

If this car is honest, there isn't any automobile in existence that compares with it in value.

That it is honest inside as it is beautiful outside, the name Studebaker guarantees.

The fact that it is manufactured to an extent exceeded by no other car of even higher price clinches the question of internal value.

And despite its beauty, despite its internal excellence, despite its seven-passenger capacity, despite its electric starting and lighting system, it is the lowest priced "Six" on the market.

In the face of such obvious and overwhelming evidence of value—how can you consistently pay a penny more for any other car, than the price of this Studebaker SIX?

Get the Studebaker Proof Book, the most convincing piece of Automobile Literature you have ever read.

SOPHS CLASS CHAMPS

SECOND YEAR BASKETBALL QUINT DEFEATS FRESHMEN FOR THE TITLE OF SCHOOL

The sophomores captured the class basketball championship from the advanced freshmen yesterday afternoon by a score of 18 to 9. The game was fast from the beginning and showed great training and practice.

During the first two minutes of play the sophomores made a basket. A few minutes later they made another. This served to make the advanced freshmen work all the harder and they were soon close on the heels of the sophs. The sophomores kept their lead, however, and the score stood 11 to 6 at the end of the first half in favor of the sophs.

The second half started in fast with both teams working at their best. The freshmen began to crawl up on the sophomores in the beginning of the half but succeeded in making only thre points. Towards the end of the game the sophomores made a final spurt and pushed their score up to 18. Grenzner starred on the sophomore team, making ten of the points in their favor. Russell Weeks made the most points on the freshman side. He made one field basket and five points on fouls.

Lineup:

Sophomores — Grenzner, Roellig, Kelly, Harris, Kulcynski and Reget.

Advanced freshmen—RalphWeeks, Rnssell Weeks, Cameron, Youngberg, Dornback, Layman and Volz.

Mr. Hassett refereed the game.

WOLGAST MAY HAVE THROWN AWAY TITLE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 14.—Ad Wolgast's failure to claim a foul in the seventh round of Thursday night's battle with Willie Ritchie here, probably cost him the lightweight championship of the world, it developed today.

Referee Harry Stout said that the Bear Cat made no such claim, but that had he done so, he would have ordered an examination. Dr. C. W. Morter, member of the state boxing commission, who examined Wolgast in his dressing room said the blow that sent Ad to his knees was low.

SAINTS DOWN HOODOO

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—Fans here today do not believe in the "Friday the 13th" hoodoo, for four St. Louis Browns beats Louisville, 3 to 2; Jacksonville was easy for the Cardinals, 9 to 1; Rickey's Youngsters took a game from Connie Mack's Beginners, 8 to 7, while the Third Brown squad defeated St. Petersburg, 11 to 1.

TENER WORKS OUT

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 14.—"A little stiff, but I'll be on the job again today," was Governor Tener's answer to Philly athletes today, who expected to see the National league chief hobbling about on crutches. Tener arrived here yesterday with President Baker of the Phillies, shed his coat, donned a sweater and for two hours knocked fungoes to the outfielders. When he took his turn at the plate he showed that fifteen years off the diamond had not dulled his knowledge of how to slam the ball.

High and Low.

Naturally the clergyman was annoyed when the waiter asked if the luncheon party would be high church or low church. "What on earth has that to do with you?" he demanded. "A great deal, sir," explained the waiter; "if your friends are high church I must provide more wine; if low church, more wittles."—Cardiff Western Mail.

Good Help.

A 5 cent lump of smooth or rough pumicestone is a valuable help at the kitchen sink. Use it to remove all sorts of stains from the hands; also to scour off burnt food from granite ware. It will not chip the ware as a knife does, not injure in any way. It also cleans and at the same time sharpens steel knives.

Mohammedans in London.

There are nearly 2,000 Mohammedans resident in London, the majority, of course, being natives of India, who are merchants or law students, though some are Britons and it is intended to erect a new and splendid mosque, modeled on that of Delhi, which will cost not less than $500,000.

The men who spend all their time reading the Bible will be surprised when they get to heaven and find that the men who always paid their grocery bills are occupying reserved seats in front.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Deceivers.

There are people who continue to insist that they would rather have their teeth pulled than sit before a camera; but they are generally the ones who are most impatient to see the proofs.

Candles to Fit.

To make a candle fit any candlestick, soften the wax by dipping in hot water. Then push it in the candlestick; if too small, the candle can be squeezed in; if too large, the soft wax will spread and hold the candle up.

Lucid Explanation.

"There's a terrible noise in the nursery, Mollie," said her mistress. "What is the matter? Can't you keep the baby quiet?" "Sure, mum," replied Mollie, "I can't keep him quiet unless I let him make a noise."—Lippincott's.

Reverse Not True.

Scott—"A man may be so effusively pleasant with everybody that he becomes a nuisance." Mott—"True. But a man who endeavors habitually to make himself a nuisance never succeeds by any accident in being pleasant."

A man can't appreciate his spare time if he has to spend it hunting for work.

SUFFRAGETTE POINTERS

It has been seen that the progress of the world goes on, like an automobile, by a series of explosions—when they stop, the world's progress stops, and the machine becomes useless.

There is a general belief in miracles, so that which happened to the little old suffrage machine will not seem strange. It suddenly emerged into the limelight of the world, a great shining touring car, with flags waving and banners floating, and with both men and women climbing on board; its immense headlights are illuminating two, yes, three continents; they are shining from Maine to California, and from Alaska to New Zealand. The peasant women of Scandinavia are walking miles over their mountains to put their little pieces of paper in the box, and we are told they sometimes fold their hands and say a little prayer that they may be guided right. The inmates of the Turkish harems, and the women of China and Japan are waking up. Hugo Munsterberg says with a groan, yes, the women are waking up, but then happiness is gone forever. Well, what do you know about that? Nothing but slang will suit some situations.

Suffrage News

Canada farmers on the right side. Grain growers in the northwest nearly all favor suffrage. Roll calls show a surprising strength in the senate. Democrats of California clubs favor suffrage. Votes for women win largest applause at a Columbus, Ohio "get together dinner." Colorado doctor says voting has not injured the health of the women of that stae. Missouri senator makes boorish speech. Eleven aldermen lose in the Chicago primaries. Petitions in Ohio soon to start for the submission of the question to the voters again next fall. Nebraska and Missouri women are doing the same. Both Dakotas, Montana and Nevada vote on the subject next fall, making in all seven states, the greater half of which will no doubt go for suffrage. Threw Up the Sash

It was story telling time in the first grade. The teacher had taken her place in front of the class and asked:

"What would you like to hear today?"

A little hand shot up in the back of the room.

"Well, Bobby, what story do you want?"

"Please ma'am, tell us about the little boy who swallowed the piece of ribbon and it made him sick at the stomach."

The teacher looked mystified.

"Bobby, I never heard of that story. We had better take something else."

But Bobby was not so easily downed.

"Oh, yes, you have, teacher. You know it says:

" 'He ran to the window as quick as a flash, Flung open the shutters and threw up the sash.' "

—National Food Magazine.

Invited Conviction

The principal grocer of a small country town was chatting with several customers when a discussion arose as to the wonderful sense of touch that the blind have.

"Here comes old blind Henry Perkins now," said the grocer. "We'll test him."

He took a scoopful of sugar and extended it to the old man.

'Feel this, Henry,' he said, "and tell us what it is."

The blind man put his hand in the scoop, passed its contents through his fingers and said in a firm, confident tone: "Sand!"

A Traveling Tommy

A little girl whose father was a commercial traveler sat on the porch holding a kitten and, creeping up close, her mother heard this:

"Kitty," said the young miss, "I know your mamma an' I know all your brothers an' sisters, but I ain't ever seen your papa"—then after a brief pause—"I spec' he must be a traveling man."

CHURCH NEWS

Permanent Benefits Result From "Go to Church" Sunday

Churches are finding, it is said, the Go to Church Sunday project more permanent in its benefits than any of them dreamed it might be. People brought out by the public hurrah that everybody attend public religious worship somewhere on a given day are found to attend on succeeding days, so that from every part of the country, both where the Sundays have been observed and where the Sundays have been observed and where it has not, church pews are filled in larger proportion than for years. Even Jews report that their attendance on Saturdays is helped. A conservative estimate is fifteen per cent increased attendance in all cities where the Sunday has been kept that seems to be held permanently.

The plans now are to extend the Sunday to cities not yet keeping it, to select the Sundays nearest to Decoration, Labor, Thanksgiving and Washington's birthday, and make them Go To Church Sundays, cutting out some measure the special Sundays, such as peace, Bible, Mothers' and others, which latter are found seriously to interfere with the regular teaching work of the churches.

Coupling itself with the Go To Church Sunday is the church efficiency movement. Christian leaders in most Protestant bodies are now in correspondence on both subjects, seeking to agree upon common Sundays, the elimination of all other special Sundays, and better business methods in the conduct of local churches, and of missionary societies. The last named are being attacked in some parts for expensive expense of money collection. The efficiency cry has struck the churches broadside.

Chautauqua Celebrates Its Fortieth Anniversary

The original Chautauqua is celebrating this year the fortieth anniversary of its founding by Messrs. Vincent and Miller on the lake of the name in Western New York. The first named is now a bishop and still living, while the latter, an Ohio manufacturer in his day, is many years dead. The very first Summer school in connection with religious and cultural work was that founded by Prof. Agassiz of Harvard on Martha's Vineyard. It lasted only a short time, and Chautauqua grew out of it. There are now 2,800 Chautauquas in the United States, and some in almost every land under the sun. None have any organic connectio with the original, now forty years old.

This Western New York summer school is the largest in the world, with 3,500 students, two hundred courses of study and about one hundred instructors. Alone of all of the home reading agencies it retains the cultural courses and distinguished from the vocational ones. These courses have had 60,000 graduates and 750,000 readers, scattered in every part of the world.

Christian Leaders Favor World Peace Congress

Christian leaders of America, interested particularly in peace problems, are replying to the Swiss churches that they favor, with them, the holding of a World Peace congress in Berne this summer. Not long since the evangelical churches of Switzerland sent out an invitation to the churches of Europe to attend such congress, to give answer not later than April. Soon afterward the invitation was extended to this country. It is learned that so general has been the response that the congress is practically certain to be held. The fixing of the date rests with the Swiss churches, but it is known that an American delegation of good proportions will attend.

POEMS You Ought To Know

FATE

(By Susan Marr Spalding)

Two shall be born, the whole wide world apart,
And speak in different tongues, and have no thought
Each of the other's being; and no heed;
And these, o'er unknown seas to unknown lands
Shall cross, escaping wreck; defying death;
And, all unconsciously, shape every act to this one end
That, one day, out of darkness, they shall meet
And read life's meaning in each other's eyes.

And two shall walk some narrow way of life
So nearly side by side that, should one turn
Ever so little space to right or left,
Then needs must stand acknowledged face to face.
And yet, with wistful eyes that never meet,
With groping hands that never clasp; and lips
Calling in vain to ears that never hear;
They seek each other all their weary days
And die unsatisfied—and that is fate.

Greeley's Religion.

Horace Greeley was a Universalist in religion and was a regular attendant at the "Church of the Divine Paternity," of which the famous Dr. E. H. Chapin was minister. Greeley died in 1872, at the age of sixty-one, broken-hearted over his wife's death and his political discomfiture.

Worth Knowing.

The average male brain among civilized races weighs about 49 ounces; in the female about five ounces less. It measures about 105 cubic inches. It consists of 300,000,000 nerve cells, of which 3,000 are disintegrated and destroyed every minute, so that we have a new brain every 60 days. The brains of public and famous men, as well as criminals, weigh about 60 ounces.

Doctor or Undertaker.

Upon meeting a rather sour-faced woman in the car the other day, the pleasant faced young man said cheerily: "Good morning! How are you today?" "Not so well," was the reply. "I have rheumatism and an awful cold, my right arm is dreadfully swollen, and there's a ra—" but the young man fled, probably to get an ambulance.

Cling to Eastern Customs.

Although a railway now connects Damascus with Beirut, it has introduced no great change in the customs of the natives and their mode of living. The streets in the newer quarters are fairly broad and clean, but the older streets, while broad enough, are dirty, and the houses dilapidated.

Mr. Stone's Luck.

When the agent paid Mrs. Stone the amount of insurance her husband had carried, according to Everybody's Magazine, he asked her to take out a policy on her own life. "I believe I will," she said, "as my husband had such good luck."

There Are Always Some.

The man who thinks the world could not get along without him generally succeeds in finding foolish people who will share his belief.

FREE BRIDGE FOR FARMERS' BANQUET

Council Votes to Remove All Toll Day that Rural Citizens Will Be Guests of Businessmen

The common council last night voted unanimously to remove all toll on the Mississippi wagon bridge—the day when farmers from Wisconsin and Minnesota will be guests of La Crosse businessmen at a banquet given at Germania hall, Fifth and Market streets.

The resolution as introduced last night by Alderman Schneeberger went through the council without a dissenting vote.

H. Clay Evenson, upon whom most of the responsibility for the banquet has fallen, today announced that all arrangements were completed and everything in readiness for the entertainment of 300 farmers.

"The event is bound to be a success," said Mr. Evenson today. "The farmers are enthusiastic over the affair and most of the businessmen are anxious to hear the farmers' view on La Crosse."

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, March 14.—Wheat moved within a very narrow range today and closed with May steady on last night's closing price and July a fraction above. Trade was light and the steadiness was inspired by some strength on corn and a steady market at Liverpool.

Corn was helped by a bulge at Liverpool, and closed today at an advance of 1-4 to 3-8 over yesterday's closing prices. There was a sharp dip early in the day, when leaders began to take profits on the opening bulge, but the market recovered from this loss before the close.

Oats followed corn from the start, but was not as strong relatively, and May futures failed to make complete recovery following the dip in corn, closing a shade under yesterday's closing price. July futures, however, made a fractional gain for the day.

Provisions were firm and a little higher earlier in the day but lost the advance and a little more toward noon.

"NELL" WILSON TO WED W. G. M'ADOO

Announcement of Engagement of Preisdent's Daughter and Cabinet Officer Is Made

TANGOED WAY INTO HER HEART

Secretary of Treasury Noted as Best Society Dancer of the Capital

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Tumulty last night made the following announcement:

"The President and Mrs. Wilson announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Eleanor Randolph, to William Gibbs McAdoo."

Early in the day it became known generally that the announcement would be made last night.

The White house was bombarded with queries and congratulatory telegrams poured in on Miss Wilson all day, while the telephone operators were kept busy with her friends' calls, all eager to be the first to offer good wshes.

On Wilson Lucky Day.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Friends of Miss Eleanor Wilson and Secretary McAdoo predicted happiness to the couple today, because announcement of their engagement came on Friday, the thirteenth. President Wilson always held that the hoodoo number was "lucky" for him and his family, and the double combination has always been held by the executive as auguring more than usual luck.

McAdoo Keeps on Working.

Over in the treasury department, Secretary McAdoo sought refuge behind a huge pile of official work and smilingly refused to comment. In his buttonhole was a white carnation, which his friends insist grew in the White house conservatory, and he also appeared to be very happy.

It was learned upon most excellent authority that the present incomplete plans provide for a June wedding.

It is whispered that the wedding itself may be a private one with only the two families present, to be followed by a huge reception to which the world and his wife will be invited. Society belles have begun already to plan their Eleanor Wilson wedding frocks and the pretty Nell rose color named for her has sprung into renewed favor.

Unique in White House History.

Special interest attaches to the news from the fact that this is the first time in the history of the White house that one of a president's cabinet has won the hand of a president's daughter. Miss Eleanor Wilson, as the fourteenth White house bride, will have the distinction of being the only bride that followed her predecessor in less than six months.

Won Her Through Tango.

Various rumors were in circulation today as to the inception of the romance. One was that Secretary McAdoo's great prowess of dancing won the hand of Miss Wilson and that he danced his way into her heart. Secretary McAdoo does the hesitation waltz and the tango better than any society man in Washington and Miss Wilson and he were frequent and devoted partners.

McAdoo Is a Grandfather.

The old adage that "love laughs at age, race and creed" is borne out in this engagement, as Secretary McAdoo is twenty-six years older than Miss Wilson, the father of six children and the grandfather of two. He has been a widower for several years and devoted to business projects.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.

In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Peculiar Street Names.

The Mexicans have a turn for the picturesque which displays itself in the stret names of the capital. There is Love of God street. The Holy Ghost street, Sad Indian street, Street of the Wood Owls, Lost Child street, and a cautionary Pass if You Can street. Shop names, too, in Mexico are out of the common. A drug store calls itself Gate of Heaven, and a drinking saloon describes itself frankly as The Bait of the Devil!

Land of Indolence.

There is no doubt that the climate of Mexico inclines to both physical and moral indolence, and exercise of either body or mind such as people indulge in in the United States or Europe seems impossible there. The old fashioned Mexican of culture was quite content if his daughters went to church constantly, embroidered, sang a little and painted a little.

PANKHURST HUNGER STRIKES OUT AGAIN

Was Put in Jail for Seventh Time Tuesday and Today Is Released

LONDON, March 14.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, untamed leader of the militant suffragettes today was released from Holloway jail, after successfully hunger striking. Mrs. Pankhurst was rearrested last Tuesday in Glasgow. She has been in prison seven times in the government's efforts to compel her to serve three years for inspiring the bomb attack on the country home of David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer.

Two months in prison at hard labor was the punishment imposed this afternoon in the Westminster police court on six militant suffragettes who smashed all the windows on the street floor of Home Secretary McKenna's home in Downing street.

Before dawn today the women, with long handled hammers, raided the McKenna house and shattered the panes of every window they could reach. They made no attempt to run away and calmly submitted to arrest. The six were sent to a police station and thence to police court, receiving one of the quickest trials that has marked the government's efforts to check the suffragettes' campaign of militancy.

The art of oratory may be passing on, but speeches promise to continue too long for some time to come.

3,000 FACE STARVATION

NEW ORLEANS, aMrch 14.—Three thousand men, women and children are facing starvation in La Ceiba Honduras, a port recently destroyed by fire Dr. Charles G. Harris delegated by the stricken community to ask aid of New Orleans, arrived here today.

Some men who are good at figures, haven't much to figure on.

Head Note.

A Chicago physician says: "Good health demands that the mouth be kept closed while asleep." Cases are known where a man's health would be in better condition if he'd kept his mouth closed while awake.

Dead.

Like Teeth.

Little Mary's aunt was visiting her at her home in the country. One day Mary said: "Come, auntie, and see my little banties. They are just cutting their tails."

The Business of Leading.

The popular leader always takes care to find out which way the crowd wishes to go.

WHY MARCH IS THE MOST DANGEROUS MONTH

March is the most dangerous month of the year because the change of season is more than a good many systems can stand. Too often it is true that the sick "last only till spring." But, if the system is fortified, if the impurities are driven from the blood, and the nerve tissues fed with wholesome and strength-giving food medicine, there is no danger in the change of seasons. Father John's Medicine is invaluable as a tonic in the spring. It strengthens the system and drives out the poisonous waste matter—builds up the body. It is this power that has made it so successful in treating colds and all throat and lung troubles. No weakening stimulants, morphine or other dangerous drugs.

SPARTA, WIS.

The home talent play entiled "The Sacrifice" will be presented by the Eastern Star at the Armory Thursday, March 19. The Eastern Star has been fortunate in securing the services of T. C. Lewis and R. B. Hutchinson of the Home Production company, Hastings, Mich., to direct the play. "The Sacrifice" is a play especially adapted for home talent, and with 14 of Sparta's best actors, the play promises to be a great success. The ladies of the Eastern Star have succeeded in securing the following cast: "Chip," a flower of the hills, Miss Marguerite Baldwin; "Henrietta Wells," school marm from Boston, Miss Gertrude Madden; "Bedelia O'Rafferty,' inventor of bread, Mrs. M. C. Harris; "Patches,' just a school kid, Miss Alice Stuart; "Jim Gordon," an old 49er, Judge R. A. Richards; Judge Thompson, agent from Kentuckee, Earle Abrahamson; Jake Dalton, victim of circumstances, Fred Steele; Hank Williams of the Palace hotel, Harold Barker; Dennis Kelley of the Emerald Isle, George Berrges; Ned Davis, stage driver, Erwin Baldwin; Snowball, black as night, Dorry Brown; "Crimps," just a school kid, Merrit Freeman.

Mrs. C. C. Ayres, who was called to Sparta from her home in Ismay, Mont., by the illness and subsequent death of her aunt, Mrs. Howard Teasdale, has returned to her home.

Special business is to be transacted at the meeting of the Woodmen on March 18, after which refreshments will be served.

In preparation for the coming "inspection," Company L had a special drill Friday night.

The Creamery association holds a meeting Saturday, March 14.

To Help an Etherized Patient.

A piece of sterilized gauze or absorbent cotton saturated with vinegar and held before the nostrils of a person coming from under the effects of an anesthetic will tend to ward off the nausea.—Home Department, National Magazine.

Good Advice.

An editor, in reply to a young writer who wished to know which magazine would give him the highest position quickest, advised "a powder magazine, especially if you contribute a fiery article."

Great Many Are Like This.

"You must quit worry and take a vacation," said the suave practitioner. "My dear doctor," replied the irritable patient, "if I could get my affairs into a shape that would permit me to take a vacation, I'd be so relieved that I wouldn't need one."

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

MOTION PICTURES ARE TAKING LEAD

Big Theatrical Producers Are Entering the Field; Leading Actors Forsake Legitimate Stage

PRODUCTIONS GET MORE MONEY

Enormous Cost of Multiple Reel Features Make Increase of Admission Price Necessary

It is estimated that nearly 8,000,000 people, or about one-twelfth of the total population of the United States attend the 15,000 motion picture theaters daily. We are inclined to speak of baseball as the national amusement, but when we consider the vast amount spent by picture lovers for admissions alone, to say nothing of the many millions of dollars invested in theaters, film plants, studios, salaries, production and so on, the money invested in baseball seems insignificant.

Daily there is recorded more growth in this wonderful branch of the amusement game. A few years ago, motion pictures were used only as a "chaser" for vaudeville shows, and little or no attention was paid to them outside of the natural curiosity of the public to see pictures that actually moved.

The situation is now entirely changed. Palatial theaters devoted entirely to the showing of motion pictures are being built all over the country, the number of producers is being added to every day, and it is a significant fact that the leaders in theatrical productions are filming their greatest successes, using the very foremost of the legitimate actors. Charles Frohman, David Belasco, Klaw & Erlanger, Henry W. Savage, the Schuberts and many others are entering the producing end.

This means that the quality of the pictures is daily becoming better, and it will be only a question of time before the show-going public will cheerfully pay a dollar and a half and more to see a great actor in a great picture, and high priced pictures will draw the same capacity houses that high priced theatrical productions do at the present day. As a matter of fact, many of the big pictorial productions are now charging advanced prices, and drawing packed houses in all parts of the country.

It is only natural that the picture houses should charge more for a special feature of five, six, seven or eight reels. Such pictures are under enormous expense, far greater than the expense of a theatrical production. For example, "Quo Vadis" shown here a few months ago, cost over $400,000 in actual cash, and took nearly three years to make. Is it any wonder that such a picture cannot be shown for five or ten cents? There are many such pictures being made. "Sampson and Delilah," "The Merchant of Venice," "Soldiers of Fortune," "Absinthe" and many others of the same class are coming out. The exhibitor must pay more for these pictures, and he must charge more or lose money.

A phonograph record of "Celeste Aida," sung by an ordinary tenor, costs only sixty cents, but the same wonderful solo, sung by Caruso costs six dollars. Is it not logical that the greater artists, appearing in multiple reel productions, costing many thousands of dollars, should be worth more to the lover of pictures than the ordinary actors, appearing in one or two reel pictures? The motion picture has passed its experimental stage, and has taken the leading place in amusements, and the public will gladly pay advanced prices when the quality of the production warrants the advance.

FILM FLASHES

Dustin Farnum, famous in "The Virginian" and "The Squaw Man" has left the legitimate stage for good, and will appear in photoplays exclusively hereafter.

Scribner's for March devotes twenty pages to the production of "A Soldier of Fortune," with Dustin Farnum in the leading role. This picture will appear at the Casino in the near future.

Maxim Gorky, the famous writer, has contracted for several Russian plays to be produced in America before long.

David Belasko has taken "A Good Little Devil" off the legitimate stage and produced it in pictures. This picture will appear at the Bijou in the near future.

Henry W. Savage will present all of his successes of the last few years in the form of photoplays.

DAKOTA, MINN.

John W. Donehower made a business trip to La Crosse Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe of St. Paul, who have been visiting with Mrs. Mary Brickert, left for their home Friday.

Claude Wilson, son of Dr. Wilson of this village, underwent an operation at the La Crosse hospital for appendicitis, and is reported doing nicely.

Messrs. Welsh and Cameron of La Crescent were business callers at Dakota Wednesday.

Last Friday evening Dakota celebrated one of the largest events of the season, in honor of Mr. and Mrs Calvin Grant and daughter. Nearly every family in the village was represented in the gathering held at the Modern Woodman hall. It proved to be a complete surprise on Mr. Grant and family, and after a short address by Mr. J. W. Donehower, they were presented with a little token of remembrance from their friends and neighbors. An elaborate banquet was served. The evening was spent in a very enjoyable way, the younger folks playing games and the older ones in having a farewell chat. Mr. Grant and family left for St. Charles on Wednesday morning, where Mr. Grant has recently engaged in the restaurant business.

J. W. Donehower shipped a fine car of hogs last Saturday.

Mr. Eugene was a La Crosse caller Thursday.

The report of Dakota State bank for March 4th shows a steady growth and the little institution shows signs of prosperity from the start.

Earl W. Harrington made a trip to La Crosse Thursday.
